U.S. Must Control NATO, McNamara Tells Congress

Hoffa Assails 3 New Bills As 'Anti-Labor'

LANSING (AP) — Teamsters Union President James Hoffa has declared war on the congressional sponsors of new labor legislation and offered to debate—at union expense—"any anti-labor senator" who is willing.

The debate offer was made in a speech here Tuesday in which Hoffa outlined plans for a huge "labor march on Washington" in mid-March to seek defeat of the proposed legislation.

Hoffa assailed three bills already introduced as "garbage" and their authors—Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Rep. Dave Martin, R-Neb.,—as "bums."

He declared:

"This legislation would reduce the labor movement to ashes. This is a fight for survival—either survival or the destruction of those who cannot fight."

Hoffa's audience of some 200 officers of the Michigan State Building Trades Council applauded his free-swinging delivery.

Hoffa said he didn't think there is "a single politician with enough guts" to debate him on the labor bills. But he said he is willing to engage in such a debate—preferably on nationwide television—and pay the cost from Teamster funds.

The three bills proposed in Congress, Hoffa said, would restrict labor to the point that it would have no rights to organize, to meet, to strike or to bargain collectively on an industry-wide basis.

"There will be no labor unions if this legislation goes through," he declared.

MESC Explains $84,000 Fraud

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan Employment Security Commission authorities Tuesday explained how William D. MacCullough bilked the MESC out of $84,000.

They said MacCullough:

—Set up dummy companies employing a number of non-existent people, filed forms and paid quarterly tax to qualify employes for unemployment compensation.

—Served as both the head of the company and as an employe who has been laid off work.

—Obtained a Federal Social Security number for each employe under an assumed name.

—As an employe, went to a MESC branch office and filed a claim for idle benefits.

—As an employer, he filled in and returns forms sent to him by the MESC.

—Collected checks after the first week, and got maximum pay for 26 weeks at a range from $10 to $55, depending on amount of weekly pay and dependents.

DeGaulle Trying To Split Europe Away From U.S.?

WASHINGTON (AP)—The crucial question being debated in Washington today is whether French President Charles de Gaulle will follow up his Common Market defeat of Great Britain with a campaign to break Western Europe's close ties with the United States.

De Gaulle's veto Tuesday of Britain's bid for membership in the market is regarded here as a severe setback to the U.S. campaign for increasing unity within the North Atlantic alliance.

A De Gaulle drive to split Europe apart from the United States —or as one authority put it "to get the United States out of Europe"—could be little short of disastrous.

The question of what De Gaulle will do next is one of several troubling U.S. leaders in the aftermath of the Brussels showdown.

The official policy line taken by administration informants is that the United States intends to go ahead with a broad program for reducing trade barriers, including tariff negotiations with the six-nation Common Market. The administration also intends to carry forward plans for formation of a North Atlantic Treaty Organization nuclear striking force built around the Polaris submarine missile.

But officials said today that until the dust settles it is difficult for them to see exactly the best way to proceed.

Administration officials rule out for the time being at least, any sort of U.S. retaliatory action against France.

The five—West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg—promptly called off a meeting of Common Market finance ministers. The session was to have discussed the flow of American investments into the Common Market area, something which arouses concern in France.

Representatives of the five said they canceled the meeting rather than give the French an opening to launch a criticism of American business practices.

Setback For Unity

British Deputy Foreign Secretary Edward Heath, who led his country's fight in Brussels, said his government will be "in the closest contact" with the five for the next few days "and then decide what should be done."

"We shall not turn our backs on Europe or the countries of the European Community," he told a British television audience.

De Gaulle was pictured as cool in the tempest that raged about him. He was said to be confident that the storm will die quickly, leaving the Common Market unscathed. Some sources in Paris maintained that France has not bolted the door forever on British entry; that in months or perhaps years Britain will be admitted to the trade community.

The United States exerted strong diplomatic pressure behind the British drive for membership, and the outcome, while expected, caused bitter disappointment in Washington.

The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., called the rejection a major setback but not a permanent defeat for prospects of a unified Atlantic community.

High-ranking U.S. officials said the United States is determined to help build a unified Europe, despite De Gaulle's visions of detaching the continent from American as well as British influence and erecting it as a buffer between East and West.

JOLT FOR BRITAIN

LONDON (AP) — Shock waves of disappointment and anxiety surged through free world capitals today at the rejection of Britain's Common Market bid.

The Atlantic alliance groped for steady footing amid the far-ranging uncertainties of President Charles de Gaulle's blackball.

The collapse of the Brussels negotiations to link the island kingdom with continental Europe threatened the biggest immediate explosion in Britain.

Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, who had staked his reputation on the success of the talks, was certain to face a full-scale attack from the opposition Labor party against a background of 800,000 unemployed and a stagnating economy.

Big Fight Ahead

One effect could be a scaling down of British military commitments to the defense of Europe.

Trade experts said Britain has one path now: a fierce fight to win bigger markets overseas and to spur industrial growth at home through more efficiency in industry and harder work all around.

One suggestion was that the government propose a grouping of countries based on the Commonwealth, Britain's partners in the European Free Trade Association and any Latin American countries that want to join.

While De Gaulle's lofty snub was directed at Britain, one immediate result was to isolate the austere French statesman from his five Common Market partners.

Rep. Perras Asks Cut In Beer Tax

LANSING (AP)—An Upper Peninsula hotel operator has introduced bills seeking to cut the state tax on beer, liquor and cigarettes.

Rep. Clifford Perras, R-Nadeau, asks that the beer tax be cut from two cents per 12-ounce bottle to five-eighths of a cent.

Bills have been introduced in the Senate to shave the tax to one cent and in the House to cut it to three quarters of a cent. The tax now brings in $34 million a year.

Perras also introduced bills asking a reduction of the cigarette tax from 7 to 5 cents a pack and elimination of the 4 per cent excise tax on alcoholic spirits.

The House also received bills to:

—Allow a 50 per cent cut in taxation for persons 65 or over with property assessed at $7,500 or less whose sole income is from Social Security and Old Age Assistance.

—Give the Agriculture Department a $183,200 deficiency appropriation for spraying for Japanese beetle control in southeastern Lower Michigan.

Gov. Romney Asks Record 547 Million State Budget

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney today proposed a record $547 million "balanced" general fund state budget which he said would rebuild confidence in Michigan's financial integrity.

"This budget is both prudent—because it lives within its income—and progressive—because it provides for the future," Romney declared in a message to a joint session of the legislature.

The governor predicted total anticipated revenues for the 1963-64 fiscal year would reach $560.6, leaving a surplus for reduction of the state's deficit of $13.6 million.

Michigan's deficit as of last July 1 was $85.6 million.

Surplus 33 Million

Romney said all reports indicated the state would have a current year operating surplus of $33 million to apply upon the deficit.

The combination of the two surpluses—$46.6 million—would reduce the $85.6 million deficit by about 54 per cent, he said. The deficit would then be down to $39 million.

"The reduction of the deficit by this amount will do much to improve Michigan's economic climate and stimulate confidence," Romney asserted.

The previous budget request record was set last year when then-Gov. John Swainson proposed the figure $528 million.

Romney called for increased appropriations for a capital outlay (building) program, higher education, school aid, economic expansion, mental health, civil service pay raise, and other individual projects and programs.

He disclosed that the state's approximately 120 agencies asked for a total of $721 million but were provided with about $547 million in the final proposed spending plan.

Merely to maintain the present level of state services, the governor said, a total of $29.5 million must be added to current general fund appropriations of $511.7 million.

Aid For Schools

Part of this increase, he explained, must go for state aid to local school systems, which are faced with an influx of 58,000 more children into classrooms in the coming year.

"This budget is designed primarily to meet the needs of the people—now and in the future," Romney declared. "This budget does not permit us to do everything we would like to do, but it will permit us to do the things that we must do."

The Republican governor told the GOP - controlled legislature, which is expected to look favorably on the budget, that adoption of his recommendations would be a "major step in restoring the confidence of our own people and of the nation in our integrity as a state."

Romney said the budget shows that Michigan can live within its income and still meet the most pressing public service needs of the people.

"But it does more than that," he said, "it shows that Michigan can look ahead and recognize its problems and solve them now to prepare for the future."

DEFICIT REDUCED

LANSING (AP) —Here are the highlights of Gov. George Romney's proposed general fund—general purpose budget for the 1963-64 fiscal year:

Total Revenues and Expenditures.

Total revenues are estimated at $560.6 million and total expenditures at $547 million, leaving an anticipated surplus of $13.6 million.

As of this June 30, revenues are expected to exceed expenditures by $33 million, reducing the state deficit to $52.6 million. The anticipated $13.6 million surplus at the end of the next fiscal year is then expected to reduce the deficit of $39 million.

Additional revenues on existing tax structures are $14 million. Of this, $6 million will come from a 12-month collection of the beer tax, collected only on an 11-month basis in the current fiscal year.

The new revenue increase will be $8 million, described by Romney as a normal growth of about 1½ per cent.

Student Load Grows

Explanation of the Budget Increase.

The increase over the budget for the current fiscal year is $35.3 million.

Education Aid Backers Divided

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's attempt to unite supporters of aid to education has already touched off a bitter division among them in Congress.

Kennedy wrapped 24 separate proposals dealing with everything from elementary to graduate school into one big bill and sent it to Congress Tuesday, urging "high priority action."

The package carries an estimated price tag of $4.6 billion for three years but cuts back sharply previous administration proposals for aid to public elementary and secondary schools.

The idea of lumping everything together was apparently to entice friends of different proposals into making common cause for the whole package, but the first effect has been to alienate influential House Republicans who support some items but oppose others.

Rep. Peter Frelinghuysen Jr., R-N.J., ranking GOP member of the House Education and Labor Committee, called the catchall bill "the height of political cynicism," and said Republicans will offer bills aimed at specific targets.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y. called Kennedy's program "incredible in its proportions" and said it robbed individual measures of bipartisan support.

Manager Accused Of Faking Holdup, Embezzling $9,000

PONTIAC (AP) — A Waterford Township supermarket manager Tuesday was charged with embezzlement after sheriff's officers said he admitted making up a false story that he was robbed of $9,000 in store receipts.

The Oakland County prosecutor's office quoted Ronald J. Cutler, 25, manager of a Food Town market, as saying the story that he had been abducted Jan. 19 and robbed of $9,000 in cash was a hoax.

Cutler was released on $100 bond after waiving examination at a Waterford Township court and was to be arraigned in Oakland County Circuit Court Monday.

Police said Cutler apparently "staged the phoney holdup believing that it would account for a shortage" of $3,200 from the market's funds since last August.

New Districting Setup Advocated

LANSING (AP) — Another attempt has been started to carve out a 19th congressional district for Michigan.

More than half a dozen such plans failed of passage last year in the legislature and former Gov. John Swainson vetoed the one that did get through the legislature to his desk.

This forced election of a congressman-at-large.

Rep. Henry Hogan Jr., R-Birmingham, presented a tentative redistricting plan to a Republican caucus of the house of representatives Tuesday. The caucus took no official action on the proposal.

Hogan said the plan was still preliminary and there probably would be several boundary shifts.

Basis of his plan, however is that there shall not be more than a 20 per cent population difference from the norm. This would allow a 40 per cent variation between the largest and smallest population districts.

Major district changes in the Hogan plan call for:

--a new district to be carved out of western Oakland County and to include either Lapeer and Livingston or Shiawassee and Livingston counties.

--converting the present two Upper Peninsula districts into one to also include the eastern tip of the Lower Peninsula.

--adding Shiawassee County to the Genesee County district.

--leaving Wayne County with six districts but reshuffling the district boundaries.

Noted Nurse Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Evelyn Lundeen, 63, a nurse noted for her pioneer role in developing techniques to save the lives of premature babies, died Tuesday. Miss Lundeen supervised the care of more than 12,000 premature infants during 38 years as a nurse at Michael Reese Hospital, from 1924 to 1962. She was born in Rockford, Ill.

Jet Rams Dike; 8 Aboard Killed

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A sleek prop-jet airliner, coming in for a landing at Kansas City Municipal Airport, crashed into a dike at the end of a runway Tuesday night, killing all eight persons aboard.

The four-engine Continental Airlines Viscount had seats for 59 passengers but carried only five. All that was left was a mass of tangled wreckage that burned fiercely for 20 minutes.

Dead, in addition to the five passengers, were the three crew members. All eight bodies were recovered.

The victims included:

Capt. Joseph William Smith, 46, Dallas Tex., the pilot.

First officer S. Clark George, 34, Dallas.

Hostess Ann Lewis, 26, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis, Abilene, Tex.

Passengers:

Mary Ann Stewart, 21, Kansas City. Miss Stewart was on the public relations staff of the Popl liv in Wichita Falls, Tex.

Mrs. Elmer Russell, 70, Kansas City, Kan.

Her son, Richard, 32, Kansas City, Kan.

E.N. Johnson, Chicago Heights, Ill.

Nathan E. Garber, St. Louis.

R. O. Ziegler, assistant chief of air traffic for the Federal Aviation Agency here, said Lane, Flight 290 from Midland, Tex., approached from north to south toward the business district, just across the Missouri River from the airport.

"It made a normal approach until about 50 feet above the north end of the runway," Ziegler said. "At the time it appeared to level off and climb slightly. It proceeded over the runway until it reached the south end of the field, when the nose appeared to drop sharply and the aircraft disappeared from view behind the dike."

Witnesses said the craft hit an earthen bunker and bounced over a 9-foot wire fence. It skidded up the slope of the dike and catapulted into undergrowth 150 yards from the river.

J. W. Matthews of Bonner Springs, Kan., said the plane was afire as it approached.

Matthews was on duty as a railroad foreman near the airport.

Meredith To Stay At Mississippi U.

WASHINGTON (AP)—James H. Meredith has decided to continue his studies at the University of Mississippi, an informed Washington source indicated today.

The source, who has been close to the desegregation crisis at the university gave the indication in comments shortly before Meredith was to announce his plans at a news conference in Oxford, Miss.

New Bridge Bond Plan Introduced

LANSING (AP) — A plan to refinance the Mackinac Bridge with state - supported bonds to reduce bridge tolls has been introduced in the Senate.

Sens. Haskell Nichols of Jackson and Kent Lundgren of Menomominee, both Republicans, introduced the proposal in the form of a resolution asking an amendment to the State Constitution. It would have to pass both houses and be approved by the voters to become effective.

Immediate reaction of state finance experts was that the plan was impractical and even unconstitutional.

Operation of the bridge would be taken away from the Bridge Authority and placed under the Highway Department, under the plan.

Treasurer Sanford Brown said he believed existing legislation would not permit this sort of thing.

Brown also said he wondered who would trade a revenue bond producing four to 5½ per cent interest at a sacrifice in cash value in exchange for bonds producing 2½ to 2⅞ per cent.

Nichols agreed such a negotiation would require voluntary agreement by the bondholders but said they "have been enjoying an unusually high interest rate on these bonds since 1954."

Titan Hits Mark 5,000 Miles Out

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—A 98-foot tall Titan I missile roared aloft into rainy skies Tuesday, and minutes later an Air Force spokesman said the training launch was apparently successful.

The launching was by a Strategic Air Command crew.

The Air Force said preliminary telemetry reports indicated the missile hit its target area 5,000 miles out in the Pacific.

Nation Carries Bulk Of Western Defense Burden

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today the United States does not want to dominate the North Atlantic Treaty Organization but will have to stay in the driver's seat as long as it carries so much of the Western defense load.

"We would be happy to share more equitably the heavy burdens we now carry in the collective defense of the free world," McNamara said. "But as long as we do carry so great a share we cannot escape carrying a proportionately large share of the responsibility for leadership and direction."

America's allies in Europe should be able to shoulder a bigger share of the burden than they have, he added.

McNamara outlined U.S. hopes for the Atlantic Alliance in telling Congress about a five-year defense program designed to handle the Communist threat in situations ranging from guerrilla warfare to nuclear attack.

Cost 56 Billion

In lengthy testimony to a closed-door session of the House Armed Services Committee, he estimated the fiscal 1964 spending for all the defense programs at $56 billion. The biggest share, $51 billion, is tagged for the military forces.

In a wide-ranging summary of the present and future U.S. military position, he strongly hinted that the United States would send combat troops into South Viet Nam if the Communists launch an open attack from North Viet Nam. For the first time, he acknowledged the United States now has more than 11,000 military men in Viet Nam advising the native forces.

McNamara told Congress that American strategic might is sufficient to absorb an enemy strike "and still destroy the Soviet Union." He said the United States will "retaliate in kind" to any Russian nuclear attack, striking back at Soviet cities if American cities are hit.

New Missile Needed

The defense secretary called for development "on an urgent basis" of a new missile to defend the United States against intercontinental ballistic missile attack.

He sketched a radical new concept for organization and use of airborne infantrymen, one he said "would be particularly valuable for conflicts in areas outside of Europe."

He said an increasing military strain on the Soviet economy might "tend to limit the size and help determine the character of the Soviet military program, at least over the next few years."

He forecast that Red China will seek "to expand its own influence in the Communist camp and among the unaligned nations, resorting to armed aggression to satisfy its ambitions only where this can be done without a direct confrontation of U.S. military forces."

"Our principal concern in the years ahead must be the dangers of an ICBM or submarine-launched missile attack, and the main thrust of our efforts should be redirected to meet these rising threats," McNamara said in a discussion of U.S. air defenses.

"In this area we are in better shape with respect to warning than to active defense," he said. "It is now generally agreed that the Nike-Zeus system currently being tested would not be effective against a sophisticated threat in the late 1960s or early 1970s."

Increase In Army

McNamara asked for a $246-million authorization to press development of the Nike-X, an advanced antimissile missile which would have an improved radar system and a speedier rocket booster. He requested a total of $450 million for antimissile research and development work.

"I believe that the matter of antimissile defense is so important that we must make every effort to develop an effective system, even if we cannot now make a decision to procure and deploy it," McNamara said.

He called for an increase of 15,000 men in the Army's permanent personnel ceiling to "organize provisional units to test some new concepts."

The additional strength would provide men to be organized into

Jensen's Blast Stirs Report On Fisheries Project

A charge that politics has sunk the Area Redevelopment Administration program in the Upper Peninsula had a negative answer today from a representative of Robert Nathan Associates, which is giving technical assistance under an ARA contract to the Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems.

The charge was made by Roy Jensen, secretary of the Michigan Fish Producers Association, at the annual meeting of the Association at Traverse City Jan. 22. Jensen said that because Warren Cleary was brought back to Escanaba by the Democrats from the State Department to get acquainted as an ARA representative and lost the election for Congress, that there would be no ARA projects for the Upper Peninsula.

"We have lost any hope of getting anything for the Upper Peninsula," said Jensen, a former member of the Michigan Legislature.

Jensen cited in support of his charge the fate of the first project approved by UPCAP. This is the fisheries project approved by UPCAP last October and referred to Nathan Associates for technical preparation.

Jensen said that "no one is able to pin down just where this project stands today." He said that the Fisheries Committee of UPCAP had received a communication from Joseph Revis, senior consultant of Nathan Associates to UPCAP at its Escanaba office, suggesting that the project should be revised to include Wisconsin and Minnesota in the Lake Superior study of cisco (herring) marketing.

The Fisheries Committee of UPCAP submitted to the general meeting of the organization at Marquette on Jan. 12 a recommendation that the fisheries development project be pushed for the Upper Peninsula. If it would help to include Wisconsin and Minnesota, let it be done, it was suggested, but "we want our UPCAP program for the Upper Peninsula," said Jensen.

"Our fisheries project was the first action program approved by UPCAP," said Jensen. "Where is it?"

Revis said Tuesday that he was asking Leo Gariepy, mayor of Munising and chairman of UPCAP's Fisheries Committee to call a meeting of the committee at which project progress could be detailed.

"That's swell," said Jensen.

The UPCAP effort to develop the Lake Superior cisco industry appears to have struck several governmental snags. Nathan Associates, have been trying to structure a project that the Area Redevelopment Administartion would accept and finance. Revis' suggestion to the Fisheries Committee for revision of the project suggests that ARA wouldn't buy it as first suggested and that the other Lake Superior states must be included in the project.

UPCAP's Fisheries Committee has no objection to this, but wants something done, even if the others states won't join in and apparently they have not responded actively to first overtures.

The relationship between ARA and the Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, both federal agencies, may also present some problems of clarification of financial responsibility for the cisco project. The Bureau of Commercial Fisheries is the official federal agency in this field and when ARA proposes a project of this type it must be meshed with the Bureau's own activities in the same work. If the ARA project makes demands upon Bureau funds not provided for in its budget, this must be solved, possibly by a special appropriation to the Bureau.

Work to put together a workable and acceptable project has progressed, said Revis.

Jensen said that Dr. Peter Tack, professor of fisheries, Michigan State University, heads MSU'S technical aid to the project and that George McManus has been assigned by MSU as a marketing specialist to work in the field on the project. Nathan Associates has provided $2,500 from its ARA funds for McManus's research. He is now at work in the Upper Peninsula.

Officers Elected For Retarded Children's Assn.

At a recent meeting of the Delta County Chapter of the Michigan Association for Retarded Children the following officers were elected: Albert Valind, president; Dr. George Maniaci, vice-president; Mrs. Algot Gustafson, secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Taylor, treasurer and Rudy Wedenoja and Jack Savard, board of directors.

Gifts in the past 30 days for the building fund for the new school for retarded children have been encouraging. Those groups which have contributed are: Escanaba Kiwanis Club, $500; Teamsters' Auxiliary, $50; Escanaba Dairy, $100; Cub Scout Pack, $430, Ford River, $10.15; P. E. O. Sisterhood, $10 and United Commercial Travelers, $205. The building fund now totals $2,034.

VOTED AGAINST DECLARATION

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Thomas Worthington, whose home has been preserved and opened to the public in Chillicothe, Ohio, was the only Ohio congressman to vote against the declaration of the War of 1812.

Members of the Gladstone City Commission and the Escanaba City Council chalked up a "first" this week when they held an informal meeting at City Hall here to discuss matters of mutual interest. Both felt the meeting was long overdue and expressed sincere desires that the two governmental units work together in solving their problems, and in promoting projects for the area. Shown during the meeting are: (left to right seated) Gladstone members of the commission, Ray Norton, Reuben Sjoquist, Frank Stupak, City Atty, Clair Hoehn, City Manager H. J. ## European Tour Told To Rotary

A Europe of crowded highways, efficient state operated railroads (they always have a deficit), extensive new building, and a people convinced that Americans would rather have steak and apple pie than the best European cuisine were impressions shared by a jet-plane tourist with the Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

Jean Worth, Escanaba Daily Press editor, told the Rotarians that Europe is now only jet flight hours away, thus adding days to the time the tourist has to spend in visiting the European countries.

He recounted amusing incidents of travel, reported on economic conditions within the several countries, and said that of all tourists the Japenese carry the most cameras and take the most photographs.

Dr. Vernon K. Johnson introduced the speaker and A. W. Moberg, club president, conducted the meeting.

Moberg welcomed into membership Walter Nelson, formerly of Manistique, and a past president of the Manistique Rotary Club.

Next Tuesday the Rotarians will, following their luncheon meeting at the House of Ludington, tour the new Escanaba Area Public High School.

File Report On Self-Employment, Farmers Advised

Carl L. Johnson, social security district manager in Escanaba, today reminded farmers who operate farms on a calendar year basis that their social security self-employment returns must be filed and the tax paid by April 15.

Self-employed farmers who are required to file estimated tax returns and have not done so by Jan. 15, must file the final return and pay the social security tax by Feb. 15.

Farmers and farm operators file their returns on Form 1040 and form 1040F. Form 1040 is the general tax report form used by city and farm people alike. Form 1040F, the second form, is especially for farmers. But both must be completed and filed by self-employed farmers.

Questions about filing the return and payment of the tax should be directed to the nearest office of the District Director of Internal Revenue. Further information about the social security old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits may be obtained from the security district office, 110 N. 13th St., Escanaba.

Menominee Moves Ahead On Plans For Centennial

MENOMINEE—Headquarters for the Menominee County Centennial have been established in a room off the lobby of Hotel Menominee and will be open throughout the preparations and staging of the 100th Birthday event in early August.

Mark Kronauer, chairman of the centennial committee announced a special "fireplace Dutch treat" breakfast to be held Thursday at 7:30 a. m. in the hotel for all business men in the Menominee area. The promoters will detail the planned program for the Centennial, including decorations, window displays, etc. A similar meeting for tavern owners is planned later.

Briefly Told

M Sgt. Edward A. Ekdahl has been appointed as U. S. Air Force recruiter for the Upper Peninsula and is stationed in Marquette, it is announced. He will be at the Army Reserve Center in Escanaba each Thursday from 10 a. m. to noon to accept applications of Air Force enlistees.

Curtis Trams, manager of Culligan Water Conditioning, Escanaba, attended a three-day national Culligan meeting held at the Edgewater Beach Hotel, Chicago, Jan. 23-25. A series of six clinics was held to discuss important business and technical areas. Subjects discussed in the clinics included marketing, business management, household and commercial-industrial water conditioning products.

Calumet & Hecla Contract Noted In Copper Inquiry

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur S. Flemming told senate investigators Tuesday that two members of the Eisenhower cabinet interceded with him for a friend who had a big government contract for the sale of copper to defense stockpiles.

He said the cabinet members were Sinclair Weeks' Secretary of commerce, and George Humphrey, secretary of the treasury.

Flemming did not challenge investigators' estimates that the company, Calumet & Hecla, Inc., saved at least $5 million from a 1955 revision of its contract which he approved after talks with Weeks and Humphrey.

He insisted, however, that he approved the contract revision only because he was convinced it would be "in the interest of national defense.'

Flemming was defense mobilizer and a high stockpile policy maker at the time. Later he entered the Eisenhower cabinet as secretary of health, education and welfare. He now is president of the University of Oregon.

Delivery Price Set

Flemming gave the testimony at hearings before a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee exploring stockpile policies and why the government bought big surpluses on which potential losses have been estimated as high as $4 billion.

"I do not know of any other company that was given comparable treatment," Flemming said in agreeing with subcommittee counsel R. C. Coburn that Calumet & Hecla received special treatment.

Coburn said the company was "in a bind" because it had defaulted on copper deliveries to the stockpiles required by a contract negotiated in 1953 calling for long term delivery of 146 million pounds of the metal.

The contract required delivery for a price of 26 to 28½ cents a pound, and to cover the defaults the company would have had to buy copper while the market price was as high as 36 cents a pound, Coburn said.

Flemming said he did not know why the contract exceeded the company's claimed production capacity.

He described Weeks and Humphrey as long time close friends of E. R. Lovell, president of Calumet & Hecla.

Flemming testified that because of a shortage of copper for civilian use and a shutdown of the Calumet & Hecla mines by a strike, Weeks, Humphrey and C. & H. officials repeatedly urged a revision of the contract.

Schedule Extended

As a policy maker, Flemming said, he approved a plan under which the government "forgave" the defaulted deliveries and stretched out C. & H. delivery schedules. He said he figured this was needed to enable the company to resume operations, and thus was in the national interest.

The government, in turn, was to receive refunds from the company of all profits exceeding 2 cents a pound on the contract, Flemming said.

He added that this provision was canceled by Franklin Floete, general services administrator, in 1956. Flemming said he was not involved in the 1956 revision which Coburn estimated has either saved the company or "cost the government" an additional $2 million.

Flemming said also that he did not recall that Weeks or Humphrey had any part in the 1956 revision.

Flemming said he could shed no light on what Coburn termed "another flip flop" by Felix Wormser, assistant secreatary of the interior, who first recommended rejection of the 1956 revision then changed his mind the next day and recommended its approval to Floete.

Doctors Explain Proper Way To Blow Your Nose

Do you know how to blow your nose?

This seems very much like a foolish question. Blowing the nose to clear mucus is a very simple affair.

But physicians have long known that blowing the nose too hard can cause trouble in the ear.

How does this happen?

Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, explains. Two tiny tubes that have an opening in the upper part of the throat connect with the middle ear, one on each side. The tubes are basically "safety valves" to keep air pressure in the middle ear the same as outside. The eardrums do not normally permit any air to get in or out of the middle ear.

Adjustment of air pressure in the middle ear is normally carried out automatically and without conscious effort. If there is too rapid a change in outside air pressure, such as occurs when ascending or descending in a plane, the air in the middle ear may expand or contract. The eardrum will either bulge out or curve in and ear pain may be produced

Then a conscious effort is needed to open the tubes in the throat and let air in or out of the middle ear. This can be done by swallowing, chewing gum or holding the nose and then trying to blow.

The nose should be blown with both nostrils open, so there is no chance of back pressure developing and forcing the tubes open. During the acute stage of a cold, germ-laden mucus is present in the upper throat, and this can be forced into the openings and thus into the middle ear. This is more likely to happen if one nostril is closed and the other is blown hard, since considerable pressure is developed.

The proper way to blow your nose is not to blow too hard and to leave both nostrils open.

A WELL-KNOWN HEROINE

Chess Tourney Will Be Held

Open to any resident of Delta County, regardless of age or sex, the first annual Delta County Chess Tournament will be held in the Sherman Hotel in Escanaba Saturday, Feb. 23.

The tournament will be a feature of Escanaba's Centennial year observance and will be sponsored by the Escanaba Daily Press and Wickert Floral Company. The tourney will be a one-class only event, and trophies will be awarded to the champion and to the runnerup.

Organized chess activity has been dormant in recent years, although interest in the challenging game appears to be growing. If sufficient interest is shown, it is likely that a club will be formed for future organized activity.

There will be no entry fee. Entries, must be turned in by Feb. 18, may be submitted to the Chess Editor, Escanaba Daily Press, or to Paul Snyder of Wickert's.

Referee for the tournament will be the Rev. Canon James G. Ward, former South Dakota state and Upper Peninsula of Michigan champion and a student of chess since his college days in Canada.

Lewke Commends History Society On Centennial Aid

Walter Lewke, manager of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, commended the Delta County Historical Society in annual dinner meeting at the Sherman Hotel Tuesday night for a major contribution to the Centennial of the City of Escanaba which is being celebrated this year.

"No doubt there are many communities with a colorful and interesting history, but which have lacked the foresight to establish a historical society for the preservation of their past," said Lewke. "We in Escanaba are indeed fortunate to have both a society and a historical museum for succeeding generations. Our museum attracts many visitors each year and with the exception of the travel shows, has distributed more tourist tabloids than any other point of visitor interest in Delta County.

"Our Centennial is based on historical background and facts, collected by the Historical Society. We must look to you for the authentication of our local history. Our attention has been directed to pictures which show Escanaba to have been a thriving lake city in its early days and it is to be hoped reproductions will be made for the museum.

"The relationship of your Historical Society to the Centennial Celebration has prompted many people to offer manuscripts, clothing and historical pieces for public display. Our Centennial Corp. has called upon the Society for the publication of a book which is the history of Escanaba and Delta County and our committees, in their desire to retain the historical flavor of the 1860s will rely upon you also. We are asking your assistance and participation in:

"1. Our parade of vehicles of the period, from baby carriages to covered wagons.

"2. We hope to find men's, women's and children's clothing of the 60's to be displayed by our merchants.

"3. We want to display furniture and household items, jewelry, letters and documents.

"Most of the men have entered into the spirit of beard growing and most of us are beginning to develop beards with character.

"Our Centennial marks 100 years of progress and we can be proud of Escanaba's growth in this 100 years."

Lewke announced that Clinton Dunathan, editor of the Centennial Book, reported much aid from the Historical Society, "The inspiration for this book about the old Escanaba days and the days to come," said Dunathan "can be credited only to the people of the Historical Society. I think of the years of devoted researching, collecting, cataloging and filing done by Dave Coon, the time spent by Mrs. Cornelia Jensen in interviewing old timers and writing their recollections.

"The late George Harvey Sr., and Mrs. Harvey offered much in research, and so have many others including Mrs. Paul Rademacher, Charles Follo, Mrs. Theodore Farrell, Frank Bender, Jr., and Arvid Mustonen. The success of the Centennial book will depend upon its sale. It should have a large advance sale to expand its benefits."

The dinner was attended by 45 persons and was served at tables attractively decorated with small log cabin made by Joseph Groos of the Mead Corp. The Society reelected George Embs as presidetn and elected John J. Mitchell as vice president, and reelected David Coon as secretary and Dean Blake as treasurer.

Elected directors were: Mrs. George Jensen, Mrs. Paul Rademacher, Clinton Dunathan, Guy Knutson, H. E. Solberg of Brampton, Peder Pedersen of Stonington, Robert Watchorn of Fayette, Wallace Cameron of Gladstone, Robert Schmeling, Edward E. Edick and William E. Anderson.

MEA Conference Planning Begins

Group program plans for the 1963 Michigan Education Conference, Regions 16, 17 and 18, will be discussed by group chairmen at a meeting to be held here Saturday, Feb. 2.

Andrew McIntosh, Iron River, the MEA Conference general chairman, said the planning session will start at 9:30 a. m. at Marco's, followed by a noon luncheon, and that it will conclude after a tour of the new Escanaba Area Public High School between 2 and 3 p. m.

Miss Evelyn Berwin of Manistique and Edward Havitz of Escanaba are conference co-chairmen.

General plans for the conference to be held in Escanaba on October 10-11, and suggestions to the group chairmen on planning and conducting their meetings are a part of the Feb. 2 instructional meeting.

Among those who have indicated their intention of attending the Feb. 2 planning session are: Dr. Ellsworth Barnard, English department, Northern Michigan College; Joy Scholtes, Mather High School, Munising; C. W. Flower, Newberry Public Schools; Joseph B. Gucky, superintendent of schools, Stephenson; Joseph Young, Bark River-Harris School; Leonard Brown, Newberry High School; Charles Varnum, Manistique; Clara Lang, Stephenson; Marvin Frederickson, principal, Manistique High School; J. L. DeCook, superintendent, Newberry Public Schools; Carl Olson, superintendent, Manistique Public Schools.

J. Willis Owen, Northern Michigan College, Marquette, the executive secretary of the 1962 conference, will attend. The 1963 conference secretary is Clarence Zerbel of the Escanaba Area Public Schools.

Expect Decrease In Mine Values For Iron County

IRON RIVER—A substantial decrease in Iron county mining property valuations is anticipated next month, when the figures are sent to local assessors and supervisors by Harry Hardenberg, deputy state geologist, who is responsible for appraising the properties.

If the anticipated cut in valuations comes, it will mark the fourth consecutive year that mining valuations have dropped in the county, taking a healthy slice out of a once sturdy tax base.

Stambaugh is expected to be affected by the closing of the Cannon mine and Caspian is also expected to suffer a loss as the result of the shipping of the buck stockpile.

In addition, the valuations were cut on some mining properties in ten assessing districts in the county by the state tax commission in November, following an appeal by the mining companies.

It has been estimated that the valuations will be reduced by about 16 per cent in some cases, by the state mine appraiser, however, the actual figures will not be known until they are mailed from Lansing.

Handicapped Vets Can Get Schooling

MARQUETTE—Scholarships for handicapped veterans who incurred a disability as a result of service in the armed forces are now available to qualified personnel, according to Dr. Clarence Bjork, dean of admissions, Northern Michigan College.

Enactment of Public Law 87-815 of Oct. 15, 1962, makes vocational rehabilitation training available for the first time to veterans who incurred a disability during any period of service covered by the Universal Military Training and Service Act. The periods included are July 26, 1947 to June 26, 1950, and Feb. 1, 1955 to the present.

Applicants will be provided vocational counseling to ascertain what training they may need to overcome any handicapping effects of their disabilities, and to assist them in making a choice of a future occupation.

The Veterans Administration will pay for books and tuition and a subsistence allowance during the period of training.

Ticketed In Mishap On 4-Lane Highway

Oiva Fallstrom of Rte. 2, Rapid River was ticketed by Gladstone City Police for making an improper turn, following an accident at the intersection of the four-lane highway and Delta Ave. at 5:35 p. m. Tuesday.

According to police, Fallstrom, heading south on the four-lane highway, made a left-hand turn to enter Delta Ave., but made it from the outside lane. In doing so he turned into the path of a Clairmont Transfer semi-truck driven by Guy Perron of Rte. 1, Escanaba and the left side of the Fallstrom vehicle was damaged. No one was injured.

The community of Hundred, W. Va., received its name from its first settlers, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Church, who each lived past the century mark. Church died at the age of 109, Mrs. Church at 106.

PTA Starts Drive To Inform U.P. On Constitution

PTA officers from over the Upper Peninsula plan special programs to study the constitution and also plan to use mass media and other communications channels to urge citizens to stury the proposed constitution before the April 1 election date.

Legislative chairmen and other area PTA officers met at Northern Michigan College Monday night to discuss legislative matters affecting school programs. Their main focus was on the proposed new state constitution and they heard two members from the State PTA Board and one local Con-Con delegate urge them to support the document.

Leslie Richards of the Negaunee School Board and a Con-Con delegate, said the education article had support from both parties and that about the only disagreement came on the issue relating to the appointment, rather than the election, of a director for the State Department of Public Instruction.

Carl Spitler of Petoskey, Con-Con delegate and vice president of the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers, told the 25 PTA leaders that most delegates favored all but five or six articles in the document. He said there was not a delegate who wouldn't like to change certain parts of the Constitution but stressed that it would be much easier and faster to pass and then amend the new constitution than it would be to amend the old one so it would be workable.

The new document, said Spitler, calls for the continued election of boards for Michigan State University, the University of Michigan and Wayne State University. Boards for other state colleges and universities, including Northern Michigan College, would be appointed by the governor, but they would have constitutional status and only a small percentage could be changed each year. Spitler also likes the clause calling for a board to coordinate Michigan's community colleges. "We will soon have over 30 community colleges in the state," he said, pointing out that the trend is important, to provide all in the state an opportunity to attend college at least two years to see whether they want to continue in higher education or to develop some skill beyond their high school attainments.

Speaking of legislation not related to the Constitution, R. A. Ambrose of Oxford, chairman of the state PTA legislative committee, told the group that if the current K-12 bill passes the Legislature, school districts would need to annex or consolidate so all children would live in a district with kindergarten through 12th grade facilities. Districts would have approximately three years to conduct studies needed for the adjusted programs, he said, and if certain districts refuse to join other districts there would be a possibility of losing state aid. Certain problem areas might be given a longer time to adjust, Ambrose explained.

Referring to the clause in the new constitution calling for coordination of all school programs including higher education, Ambrose explained that such a committee would work mainly on an advisory basis but could be given more authority if the Legislature sees a need.

The new constitution would continue the 15 mill allocation, with the exception that any county could vote a specific amount, if they choose, bringing the total alloted for schools, county and townships up to a maximum of 18 mills.

The new document would streamline the election system. Other than school and local elections, spring elections would be eliminated and a state vote would come the second Tuesday in November on alternate years.

Ford River Scouts Hold Pinewood Race

Six members of Ford River Cub Scout Pack 430 emerged winners in the Pinewood Derby Race held Monday evening at the Ford River School.

Den champions included: Allen Mokszycke, Danny Hay, Bobby Gerdeen, Wayne Chernick and Philip VanElsacker. Bobby Gerdeen was also named the Pack champion.

Judges in the race included Ed Ettenhofer and Lawrence Derusha.

During the business meeting final plans for the annual Blue & Gold Banquet were made. The banquet will be held at the school on Feb. 7 at 6:30 p. m. Several members of the P. T. A. will serve at the affair.

A re-organization meeting is planned for the purpose of renewing the pack charter.

Safe Left Alone

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—The sign on the safe read: "There's no money in this safe."

Burglars apparently believed the sign and made no effort to open the safe, a Chattanooga contractor told police, but they made off with $6,500 worth of office machines and left a note.

"Leave a few dollars next time."

"To burn the candle at both ends" is an English phrase that has been familiar since the 17th century.

Approve Purchase Of Crystal Inn As Nursing Home

CRYSTAL FALLS — Proposed purchase and conversion of the Crystal Inn into a home for the aged and a nursing home has been unanimously approved by the board of directors of the Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society, of Fargo, N. Dak.

Approval by the Fargo firm's board of driectors authorizes its representatives to work with the board of directors of the Lutheran Home Association to establish procedures for a fund-raising campaign, to take all the necessary steps to meet state requirements, and to establish operational procedures. At a recent meeting here the board of directors of the local organization voted to turn over the ownership and operation of the Home to the Lutheran Hospitals and Homes Society. Its administration, however, will be by a local board of directors.

A professional fund raising manager will be engaged by the Society to locally finance a portion of the project which has been estimated at $300,000. The total cost represents the purchase price of the Crystal Inn from its present owners and the cost of the renovation and conservation for housing some 100 patients.

Reason For Yes Vote

The Escanaba Area School District will vote Feb. 18 on a proposal to levy a tax of 1.8 mills for 26 years to finance a broad program of new elementary school construction and modernization.

The program would construct a new school on Escanaba's south side, a school to replace the Franklin School, one school to replace both the Washington and Jefferson schools, additions to the Soo Hill, Wells and Ford River Schools, and other improvements. The levy would also pay off Ford River and Cornell school debts incurred before those townships joined the Escanaba Area School District.

The levy would provide for the foreseeable elementary school building needs of the district for the next 10 years. Because the school district has a valuation of more than $50 million the tax rate can be low for this vast program of work. Neighboring Escanaba Township School District is levying 3 mills to pay for four classrooms and a furnace room added to its plant.

* * *

The program has been endorsed by the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, the Parent Teacher organization and other groups. Some of the support comes from fear that old buildings like the Franklin School constitute an actual fire hazard to child life. Support for the issue also cites that quality schooling calls for quality school housing. Escanaba hasn't spent much on its elementary school plant for many years, except for the John A. Lemmer School, which would be enlarged by the new program.

Opposition votes are apt to be motivated chiefly by an effort to save a buck by avoiding yet another tax.

The most compelling reason for voting in favor of the proposed tax, it appears to the Escanaba Daily Press, hasn't been mentioned much. It is that the school improvement plan is a part of the package that we should be buying to enlarge our future. The challenges to American democracy in the next decade are not well understood.

* * *

The businessman and the citizen harassed by taxes are not apt to see in more taxes the hope of even their economic salvation, but there could be help in that direction if the tax were well spent. Whether the voters accept or reject the Feb. 18 proposal it is certain that they will be asked for more money for public education. The new proposal is a reshaping (enlarged) of one rejected last year. The need will not end because the proposal is defeated. And after the building needs of the schools have been attended there will remain the more important continuing job of providing good teachers.

Escanaba Area's salaries, an important gauge of its regard for teacher worth, is midway in the Peninsula's scale. There will be efforts to upgrade it. The quality of teaching will inevitably be related finally to the rewards for teaching and the progressive community should be working to increase its teachers' income so their profession attracts bright minds in competition with other callings.

* * *

The problems that we face in America require bright minds to solve them, and because we're a democracy we must have an educated electorate to give good planning effect. Gerard Piel, president and publisher of Scientific American and president of the Salk Institute for Biological Studies, puts the case well at the recent Study of Democratic Institutions of the Fund for the Republic.

"Abundance," he said "is not yet comprehended in the theory and practice of our economy. Our abundance is dodged, minimized, and concealed as well as squandered, burned and dumped. We pretend that we can go on managing production and distribution of abundance through agencies created for the management of scarcity. The failure to comprehend this failure has misled critics, who have blamed the machine for our poor management of it.

"The dark truth is that our system is ailing. Economists agree that the economy is suffering from a widening gap between its capacity to produce abundance and its ability to generate effective demand in the market place. The principal symptom is the ominously steady increase in unemployment.

* * *

"A technological order that employs fewer and fewer productive workers is obviously qualifying fewer and fewer consumers with the purchasing power to buy the goods it makes. It is up to the economic system to make the new arrangements to realize the bounty of technology. The most urgent need is for increase in the budget for education. Surely an education system that educates is essential to the restoration and enhancement of our democratic institutions. With an electorate awakened to the new possibilities — not to mention goals and purposes — that technology has opened up to human life, we can expect to see wiser deployment of that capacity to generate abundance."

It may be asked: What has all this got to do with the Escanaba Area's new elementary schools? The answer is: Everything. Essentially, the people will be voting for a public system of education that will help realize the great promise of America, not just some housing for children during school hours.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—President Kennedy's farm message to the new Congress, expected before Feb. 1, will concentrate on four top commodities—dairy products, cotton, feed grains and wheat.

Authoritative sources which have been working on it say the message will not be as specific as the President's two previous programs, which became prime targets for his critics.

The pitch this year will be to give general objectives, then let Congress write the tickets with broad grants of authority to the secretary of agriculture to spell out details in regulations.

The risks in this approach are that Congress may not give Sec. Orville L. Freeman such power and that Congress may not be able to agree on precise formulas. One result might be no farm legislation at all or action so late in the session that it will not affect this year's production.

* * *

Congress did approve a feed program for 1963 and a wheat program for 1964, late in the last session. But making the wheat plan operative is subject to a vote of approval by two-thirds of the wheat growers in late May or early June.

A "Yes" vote will mean $2 a bushel support price for wheat grown on limited acreage with extra payments for reduced planting to put more land into conservation.

If more than one-third of the wheat growers vote "No" there would be no limit on planting or marketings and the support price would fall to 50 per cent of parity or about $1.20.

The result of this would be to make wheat competitive with the feed grains. This would force more feed grain production under price supports. The total cost to the government for both wheat and feed grains would probably be less under a "No" vote.

All these factors being considered, it is necessary for Congress to know the outcome of the wheat referendum before it can legislate intelligently on the feed grain program for 1964.

The 1963 feed grain program continues the voluntary reduction of corn, grain sorghum and barley acreage in effect 1961-62. Farmers who co-operate receive payments for taking cropland out of production and putting it in conservation. The sign-up period for this year is Feb. 1 through March 22.

So President Kennedy has wheat and feed grain programs to plug in his new message, as well as brand new programs on cotton and dairy production, which are in real trouble.

* * *

Cotton is in trouble from synthetic fiber competition an an export subsidy of 8.5 cents a pound, which has increased imports of foreign textiles. Department of Agriculture recommended an export fee to equalize this imbalance last year, but the Tariff Commission turned it down.

Another idea is to establish a blended price support plan. It would let anyone plant limited acreage at a high support price with a lower support price for larger acreage production.

A third recommendation is to increase acreage allotments from 16.25 million acres to 17 million acres. This would increase surpluses and Congress would have to approve it, because the Department of Agriculture has no authority to do it now. Prospects for a new cotton program before planting time are dim.

* * *

The dairy program which now permits unlimited production cost the government about $600 million last year.

Last April's support price, cut from $3.40 to $3.11 a hundredweight, failed to cut production. Butter surpluses are now taxing cold storage capacity. But dairy farm income is down.

There is no support in Congress for mandatory reduction of milk production, so the administration will not recommend it. A voluntary, diversion-type program similar to the feed grain program is likely to be proposed. It would make some kind of payment to producers who reduce their marketings by 10 per cent of their average production for a base period. A minimum price support of 65 per cent of parity might be offered noncooperators.

The hope is that such a program would cut the cost of the program by $150 million while keeping dairy farmers' income high.

Keeping all farm income high is considered a more important objective for new farm bill drafters than reducing government surpluses or cutting farm program costs to taxpayers.

OLD-TIME COPS REPLACED IN LOUISVILLE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Policemen on Fourth Street, in the heart of Louisville, have a new look—and some of then even have a new name, "community-relations officers."

The policemen wear white hats, white Sam Browne belts, white gloves and, in case of rain, white raincoats. Chief William Bindner said the accessories will make them more visible to pedestrians and drivers on the crowded street.

The new name was given to corner patrolmen by Mayor William Cowger, who said they may have booths on their corners in the future where they can give motorists and tourists information during slack periods.

Parolee Admits Burglary Charge

State Police today reported that Robert Schermerhorn, 31, of Rte. 1, Rock, Tuesday admitted the burglary of the Larson Bros. Sav-U Market at Rock Sunday evening. He confessed to the crime during interrogation at the Gladstone Post Tuesday.

Schermerhorn is a parolee of Marquette State Branch Prison and was convicted twice before on charges of burglary. He was employed in the Rock area on a farm.

Officers said the prosecuting attorney will be contacted and arrangements made for his arraignment on the charge.

At the time the breaking and entering of the store was discovered footprints were found which matched Schermerhorn's, but he denied any part of the crime. Merchandise valued at about $298 was taken in the burglary.

All of the items, which included a large number of rifle shells, wrist watches and cigarettes, were found Monday by a 12-year-old Rock girl under a spruce tree in a parking lot near a church in the area. In the cloth bag containing the articles an envelope was found bearing the address of the farm where Schermerhorn is employed.

The Doctor Says:

St. Valentine Was Right

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt. M.D.

February is designated as Heart Month. But to a person with heart disease, every month is heart month. February was chosen because of Valentine's Day, and this ties in with the old idea that the heart is the center of the emotions.

It is not hard to see how the old idea got its start. Any strong emotion will set the heart to racing and pounding. It may not be the center of the emotions, but it is violently affected by them.

The normal heart rate of a person at rest is between 72 and 80 beats per minute. This pumps abou five quarts of blood through the body every minute. Since the heart continues to beat whether we are asleep or awake, it might be asked why this amazing muscle doesn't get tired and quit. The answer is that after each contraction (lasting about a third of a second), the muscle rests for about a quarter of second. Even when we are doing strenuous physical exercise, with both the heart rate and volume of blood increased, there is a short pause after each beat.

A reader has asked what the doctor hears when he listens to your heart through his stethoscope If the heart is normal he hears a rhythmic double sound with each beat; the sound of the closing of the heart valves and the sound of the powerful contraction of the ventricles. If there is a roughening of the valve surface due to scarring following rheumatic fever, or if the valves do not close completely, thus allowing some backflow, he will hear a characteristic murmur.

In children and young adults he may hear a slight murmur (really a blurring of the normally sharp heart sounds) that is not caused by any structural change in the heart. Such a murmur is called a "functional murmur" and has no significance. It is best recognized by the fact that it disappears when the person who has it hops up and down a few times, thus increasing the heart action.

Infectious diseases may cause another kind of change, a roughening of the outer surface of the heart. This will cause it to grate against the chest wall with each beat and produce what is known as a "friction rub."

Since the heart is a large muscle it needs nourishment just as does any other muscle. As the blood is forced from the heart into the large arterial trunk, the aorta a small part of it is forced into the small arteries that supply the heart's own muscle. These are the coronary arteries.

As the hardening of the arteries that starts at birth gradually progresses, the arteries slowly become narrower and carry less blood. When the narrowing reaches the point where the amount of blood carriel is insufficient for the heart's needs, coronary heart disease becomes manifest. If this is gradual, the heart is embarrassed only if there is an increased physical or emotional demand on it. The resulting protest is the pain of angina pectoris.

If there is a sudden plugging of a coronary artery by a blood clot, there is an acute heart attack which may or may not prove fatal, depending on the size of the clot and hence the size of the area suddenly deprived of blood.

Talk On Careers Given To Girls At Gladstone High

Mrs. Lila Paque, manager of a school of beauty culture in Green Bay, spoke to Gladstone High School girls Monday afternoon in the first of a series of 10 career hours to be conducted at the school under the direction of Don Pfotenhauer, guidance counselor.

Mrs. Paque explained the entrance requirement, including financial arrangements, to the girls and discussed the opportunities available for girls entering the field. The session closed with a question and answer period.

Monday, Feb. 4, at 1 p. m., a local panel composed of Mrs. Blanche Kennedy, Mrs. Douglas Madden and Jack Tackman, will conduct a session on the accounting and secretarial field.

Students interested in attending the next session may register at the school.

Post Office Lobby Closes At 6:30

Effective immediately, the lobby of the post office will close at 6:30 p. m., each weekday and 5:45 p. m., on Sundays and holidays, it is announced by M. E. Anderson, postmaster. The lobby has been open until 7 p. m., prior to this change.

The following changes in mail pick-ups have ben made necessary by discontinuance of mail trains and the establishment of Star Routes using motor vehicles to serve the post office: The last mail will be picked up in the collection boxes located at the post office and at 9th St., and Delta Ave., at 6:30 p. m., weekdays and at 5:45 p. m., Sundays and holidays. All air mail and airlift mail (first class mail) for Illinois, Minnesota and Lower Michigan, must be in the post office at 5:15 p. m., to make the proper connections.

Postmaster Anderson suggests that post office box holders take note of the change in closing time for the lobby.

Memory Lane

By J. R. LOWELL

Ten Years Ago

Neil Reese, who for the past several years has conducted an electric goods shop and service, at Manistique, has purchased the Kefauver & Jackson Furniture Store in that city. Edward Jackson, who has had charge of the store, will devote his sole time to his undertaking business.

Pins denoting 25 years of service with the company were awarded to four Mead Corp. veterans here yesterday. Those honored were Arthur Swanson, Frank DeCaire, Ernest Martin and Clarence Zeno.

W. I. Morrison of Escanaba was elected president of the Delta Shrine Club at the annual dinner meeting of the club at the Sherman Hotel last evening.

Twenty Years Ago

Mrs. Ed Anderson, of 210 N. 18th St., and Mrs. Hilda Olson, 328 S. 18th St., twin sisters, observed their 75th birthday anniversaries Jan. 24 at the home of Mrs. John Pearce, 223 S. 18th St. Their children and grandchildren were present to help make the occasion memorable.

Emil Viau, who conducts Viau's Market at 1319 Sheridan Road, lost 1,100 lbs. of ham and bacon in a fire that raised havoc with his smoke house.

About four blocks of ornamental iron fence that has surrounded St. Francis hospital for the past 65 years, has been removed and turned over the scrap drive. The scrap metal thus obtained amounted to about five tons.

Thirty Years Ago

Oscar Johnson of Waukegan averted tragedy in Manistique yesterday afternoon when he pulled Lois Ott, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ott, of Oak St., Manistique, out of the river. She had slipped off the dock.

Through a plan announced this week by the Rialto Theatre in Gladstone, indigent families in that vicinity will receive free screen entertainment at stated periods.

The South Bend (Ind.) Tribune carried in a recent issue a news story telling of guests at a party being victimized by holdup men. One of the guests robbed was Mrs. Harry Rush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson of Manistique.

Miss Jean Schmidt of Menominee has joined the faculty of the James T. Jones School, teaching second grade. Miss Schmidt attended Grand View Junior College in Des Moines, Iowa, before going to Northern Michigan College where she will receive her bachelor of science degree in June. She is making her home at 819½ Dakota Ave.

Ice Jams Harbor At Grand Haven

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—Twelve-foot-thick ice has closed the Grand Haven harbor to all ships other than the most powerful icebreaker on the Great Lakes—the Mackinaw.

The announcement on the condition of the ice came from Mackinaw Capt. Benjamin Chiswell after his ship hit the ice.

The cutter Woodbine, on engine maintenance status for two weeks, is not available for ice breaking.

Ice conditions at the Grand Haven harbor are called the worst in years.

Ice Fishing Is Fair At Kipling

Fishing has been fair for perch during the early morning hours in Little Bay de Noc, the Conservation Department reports, primarily off the Theisen-Clemens oil terminal at Kipling. The fish start biting about 8 o'clock in the morning and bite best on wigglers.

During the winter months, fishing is at best spotty and success is pretty much the matter of luck in picking the right day, Conservation officers say. On days when the fish are biting, some fishermen have been observed with 40 or 50 perch in the pail. One successful angler reports fishing best on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays, during the evening hours, from 4 to 6 p. m.

Walleye fishing has been generally slow, with a few fish being taken on Swedish pimples baited with minnows, off Garth, Masonville and north of the Gladstone power plant.

In Marquette and Alger counties fishing is still being held to a minimum by continued cold weather and strong winds. A few northern pike are being speared in Au Train and 16 Mile lakes. And some nice perch catches are being made on 16 Mile Lake with live minnows.

Junior Colleges Fear Annexation

EAST LANSING—Plans by the University of Michigan to annex Delta College as a branch campus are view by some leading state educators as a possible threat to the entire community college concept.

Fears for the future of the program were voiced in a closed session of the Coordinating Council for Michigan Public Higher Education.

The group urged instead that Delta's future be made the concern of a committee which would blueprint the state's higher education problem and carry the plan to Gov. Romney.

Offered By Hatcher

The proposal to make the two-year Midland area college a U. of M. branch was presented by U. of M. President Harlan Hatcher.

The council includes delegates from all tax-supported colleges and universities, a representative of the state's 17 community colleges and state school officials.

Hatcher was noncommital after the session.

Warren M. Huff, a Michigan State University trustee and meeting chairman, reported that council members viewed the proposed establishment of a U. of M. Delta branch with "concern."

Satellite Pattern

"Some asked whether this would start a pattern of satellite colleges," he said. "Some wondered whether other community colleges, seeing Delta as an example, might not seek similar recognition."

Senator Lester O. Begick (R-Bay City), who headed a legislative study committee on the problem, announced he plans to introduce a bill shortly which would establish an independent upperclassmen's college in the Midland-Bay City-Saginaw area, to work in conjunction with Delta's program.

The Delta proposal came before the council at U. of M.'s request.

"We all realize," Huff said, "that U. of M. has the final say, since the co-ordinating council is strictly an advisory organization."

But he described the feelings of a number of the college presidents, including MSU's John A. Hannah, who has been outspoken against the branch college idea, as "apprehensive."

The fear, observers indicated, was that the annexing of Delta by U. of M. would start a gobbling-up of community colleges by neighboring four-year institutions.

'Chaos' Feared

"The council worried," Huff continued, "that such affiliations might create chaos and eventually a slowdown in higher education at a time when great progress is needed."

Named to prepare higher education's case to Romney were Power; Clarence Hilberry, Wayne State University president; James Miller, Western Michigan University president; Ira M. Polley, executive secretary of the council; and Huff.

Delta's bid, meanwhile, will be studied further by a committee appointed last week by U. of M. regents. Acceptance would hinge on a joint resolution of both houses of the legislature.

Delta officials, in seeking the U. of M. as a parent institution, have assessed the legislative study committee proposal as "unworkable."

It calls for separate boards of control and separate administrations to operate the community college and its proposed sister institution.

Delta, with 2,000 students, is supported by Midland, Saginaw and Bay counties.

Technician Plan Graduates First Students In June

HOUGHTON—Michigan Tech's first associate degrees will be awarded in June to graduates of a two-year technician program now in progress at the Sault Ste. Ste. Marie Branch.

The program, in mechanical technology, was authorized four years ago and started in September, 1961. Graduates will receive the degree of Associate in Mechanical Technology.

Graduates of such programs do not emerge as trained engineers, but are highly competent engineers' assistants. The National Science Foundation has estimated that industry employes 73 technicians for every 100 engineers.

Because of the heavy demand for technicians by industry, and because of the success of this initial program, plans are now underway to extend the program to other fields and geographical areas. This will include the awarding of associate degrees in applied science and in other branches of engineering.

In addition to the Sault Branch campus and the main campus at Houghton, technician programs will be offered at other feasible locations in the Upper Peninsula, based on the need and demand for such offerings. The programs are conducted by Tech's Institute of Extension Services.

John Schuster On Dean's Honor List

Eight-hundred and seventy-nine students attending classes at California State Polytechnic College's campus at San Luis Obispo achieved scholastic honors this week by being named to the dean's list for outstanding academic accomplishment.

Among them is an Escanaba man, John R. Schuster, 530 Mounted Route, who is a major in mechanical engineering.

The honor students of Cal Poly's 5,809-member student body, representing some 36 different major courses of study were recognized for achieving an overall fall quarter grade average of "B" or better.

Announce EHS Honor Students

The honor roll for the first semester at Escanaba Area Public High School was announced Tuesday by Principal Stephen C. Baltic as follows:

All A's

Seniors Stephen Brown, Nan Devlin, Gretchen Eastin, Catherine Erickson, Gordon Fox, Janet Gasman, Geraldine McEachern.

Juniors: Kenton Anderson, Walter Carlson, Richard Chern, Kathryn Christensen, Koester Christensen, Susan M. Mallmann, Bonnie Peterson.

B or Better

THE BURLEY BELT

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The burley tobacco sales belt is listed as an eight-state area, but only 11 of the 61 sales centers are located outside Kentucky and Tennessee. Virginia and North Caroline have three each, Indiana has two, and West Virginia, Ohio and Missouri, one each.

Million American Citizens Serving In Foreign Lands

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the 19th century, the American abroad was so rare a sight he seemed like a country bumpkin lost in the big city.

An American novelist built a career on exploring the conflict between the innocent American abroad and old, sophisticated Europe. A European cartoonist drew American diplomats as lanky, Lincolnesque, and blindfolded.

Today the images have changed. Americans abroad are such as these:

The Air Force pilot flying his helicopter over brush hiding Communists in South Viet Nam; the pretty Peace Corps girl teaching chemistry and biology in the heat of Ghana; the debonair diplomat sipping a cocktail with a minister in Paris.

The American abroad no longer is a rare sight.

"We have one million Americans today serving outside the United States," President Kennedy said in his Dec. 17 radio-television interview. "There is no other country in history that has carried this kind of burden."

The government, however, accounts for the overwhelming percentage of Americans overseas. Twenty-eight federal agencies employ Americans in 127 foreign countries and colonies.

These overseas Americans help create the images that foreign peoples have of the United States. For better or worse, they become symbols of America to local populations throughout the world.

In the past few years, the State Department's representatives overseas have been the butt of much criticism.

In 1960, for example, the Brookings Institution reported that some U.S. embassy staffs seem large enough to cause irritation. The institution also noted problems caused by the ostentatious living of some U.S. embassy people abroad and the lack of contact with the people by some Foreign Service officers who prefer to hobnob with the privileged classes of the foreign country.

On the other hand, the State Department's representatives overseas often win praise for their work.

In a recent report, the Committee on Foreign Affairs Personnel, headed by former Secretary of State Christian Herter, said the vast majority of government officials abroad "are extremely devoted and able public servants; they should be a source of pride to the American pople."

Daddy's Bathroom: Recreation Center

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The American husband's greatest dream isn't to have fame, wealth and a longer motor car.

His basic hope is, sometime in his married life, to have a bathroom of his own. Fat chance.

It is the fate of most men to repeat the doom of their fathers, and this fruitless quest of a man for a bathroom of his own seems to be particularly hereditary in America. It has run in my family for at least three generations.

My grandfather reared 14 children in a section of the nation where the bathroom customarily stood in the backyard, so this dream never had a chance. He gave up early in his marital career.

Knock At the Door

My father had only five children, but he owned a one-bathroom home. So he lived a frustrated life, too.

Every time he sought to get away from it all, there would come a knock on the door and a childish voice entreating in desperate urgency, "Please, papa, I can't wait. Honest!"

Red-faced, waving his newspaper, grumbling like a bear disturbed in hibernation, father would emerge demanding in a roar loud enough for the neighbors to hear, "Is there no place in this house where a man can have a little peace and quiet?"

The answer, in his case, was —no. And it now has turned out to be the answer in my case.

Some years ago we reached the point where we could finally afford to rent a two-bathroom apartment, and I felt that, at long last, I had laid the curse which has afflicted the men of our tribe for three generations.

"Why of course, Rover, you can have a bathroom of your very own," promised my wife, hanging up a pair of nylon stockings to dry in the bathroom she had picked for me.

That was 15 years ago, and I'll bet there hasn't been a 15-minute period since then when some feminine laundry hasn't been drying there—or soaking in the wash basin.

A small daughter came into our lives. She immediately adopted my bathroom. I didn't have to ask when Lady Dottie, our cat arrived.

"We'll have to put her box in your shower," said my wife. "It's the only logical place."

My bathroom now has become the community social and recreation center. My daughter and her chums wash their socks and gloves there. They bring their paints and sit on the floor and turn the area into an art class.

When I come home from work, I never know who'll be in that bathroom of my very own—members of my family, neighborhood kids, the window washer, the television repair man, a lady from down the hall, or the cat. But somebody'll be there.

That's why I'm putting a sign on my bathroom door reading:

"All women, children, cats, dogs, visitors and passing strangers shot on sight. This means you!"

A man that won't fight for his bathroom doesn't deserve to own one.

Congo Robin Hood Escapes Hangman For Second Time

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—A Congo-type Robin Hood, facing a date with hangman, has escaped from prison for the second time, along with 17 other convicts.

A reliable source said the desperados bribed guards at the heavily guarded army Camp Kokolo Sunday and walked through the main gate.

The Congo Robin Hood who, a detective said, holds a diploma from the "Paris university of gangsterism," is known as Angwalima. His real name is Jean Angwadima.

Two military tribunals sentenced him to death earlier this month for a three-month crime rampage after his escape from Makala Prison last Sept. 17. Angwalima was recaptured in November.

Angwalima acquired the Robin Hood designation last year because he gave money to African children and Leopoldville's unemployed.

Diplomats Plan Kennedy Visit To Central America

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (A)—U.S. diplomatic and foreign aid officials met Monday to prepare for President Kennedy's meeting with six Central American presidents in Costa Rica in March.

Over three days they will review proposed agenda topics with U.S. ambassadors in the six countries in closed sessions. Economic development and integration and means of combatting Castro-Communist penetrations appeared likely to be among the principal subjects.

Dairy Directors Plan Diet Test

SALT LAKE CITY — An all-out assault on "freak" and fad reducing diets was launched here today.

Directors of the National Dairy Council announced that beginning Feb. 1 they will go on weight control diets, continuing the meal patterns until their next meeting to be held in Chicago on May 15. Within a week, these men also will be joined in the diet project by some 200 board members of local dairy councils across the nation.

Based on a diet pattern reviewed by the Council on Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association and found consistent with authoritative medical opinion, the menus the men will follow embrace a balanced diet including milk, butter, cheese and ice cream, as well as other basic and commonly - used American foods.

The intention of the project is two-fold: First, the men will gain the physical fitness benefits of reducing or maintaining their weight on a nutritionally adequate diet. Second, by so-doing, they will demonstrate to the American consumer — and the business executive, in particular — that milk, milk products, and other basic foods should play an essential role in weight control.

The dairy executives are impatient with unfounded notions that bizarre diets are needed for weight control. Fad diet patterns, they say, can be dangerously lacking in essential nutrients.

The dairy leaders point to the recognized nutritional fact that no food, as such, is fattening. Too much of any food, if it helps push your, calorie intake beyond what you need, will add fat to the human body, they say. In behalf of dairy foods, the executive groups suggest that milk and milk products are especially useful in calorie-controlled meals because of their balance of needed nutrients. Actually, they state, milk is economical in calories for the many nutrients it supplies.

The dairy executives point out there also is a secondary aspect to their project that is important. Authorities agree, they say, that weight control in itself has health benefits and may help to prevent disease. For this reason, these executives wish to demonstrate the way to diet with everyday foods that the rest of the family also use. A big problem in weight control, says the National Dairy Council, is staying on the diet. This is much easier if meals at home use the same foods as others in the family and foods regularly available in restaurants.

Everything piles up handsomely in a Chevy II including savings

Imagine a low-loading wagon roomy enough to handle most anything you can heft—and still trim enough to slip into cramped parking spots. We imagined it, built it and called it Chevy II. Made it as dependable as a wagon can get. And made it so it'll keep piling up savings over the years. Those show up in the way this one goes and goes on a gallon. They grow with brakes that adjust themselves. An exhaust system that lasts longer. And a Delcotron generator that keeps battery reserve power up. Want to hear more? How about a low price, natty interiors, Body by Fisher craftsmanship —and a talk with your Chevrolet dealer soon!

Ann Landers

Childless Couple Is Badgered by Friend

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are in our late 20's. We've been married seven years, have a lovely home, excellent jobs and are content. For personal reasons which we do not wish to discuss with anyone, we have no children.

Our friends all have children and they badger us mercilessly because we have none. They insist something must be drastically wrong with us—that we are selfish and short-sighted. The stock phrase is, "You don't know what you're missing." They also say we will no doubt end up in the divorce court because a marriage without children is sure to fail.

Why don't people leave us alone? I can't see how our childlessness affects them. Please, Ann, print this letter and inform the meddlers that all couples without children are not miserable. And can you tell us how to deal with this problem in the future?—IRATE

Dear Irate: I can think of no subject more private or personal than this one. Childless couples owe neither apology nor explanation to outsiders.

When the subject comes up, say, "We've beat that topic into the ground, now let's talk about something else.'

* * *

Dear Ann: When I read letters from single girls in love with married men I ache to tell my story. I'm putting it off no longer.

Eleven years ago I began an affair with a handsome man. He said his wife had an incurable illness and couldn't live more than two years.

I had a fine job, a lovely apartment and beautiful clothes. Soon I was spending so much time running all over the country to be with him (where no one would see us) that I lost my position and had to take a part-time job. Before long I had financial troubles. I was reduced to bargain counter shopping, doing my own hair and skipping the dentist.

Then I learned about other women in his life. He was sprinting out of town with his secretary and taking an old flame to dinner. I was crushed. By this time 10 years had passed. His wife never looked better and I never looked worse.

I didn't even bother to tell "Mr. Wonderful" goodbye. I left town and am now struggling to make a new life. Perhaps this letter will help other foolish girls who are playing the same game.—PAID IN FULL

Dear Paid: Your letter is solid testimony to the high price of low morals. Thank you for putting it down on paper.

* * *

Dear Ann: Can you help me get rid of an old lush? It wouldn't be such a problem if he weren't my husband's father. When we took him in it was supposed to be "temporary." Three years have passed and he's still here.

He has had several jobs but spends all of his money on liquor. We can't keep a bottle of brandy in the house for friends. He drinks every drop. If we didn't buy him clothes he'd be in rags. We set up a charge account for him at the barber shop or he'd never get a haircut.

My husband agrees his father should get out but he wants ME to tell him. I say it's his place. If something happened to him after I asked him to leave I'd feel responsible. Help, please.—BARBARA

Dear Barbara: I admire your forbearance, but what the man needs is help. Nothing in your letter indicates you have tried to straighten out his drinking problem.

Instead of heaving the poor guy out in the street and hoping he doesn't get hit by a bus, why not investigate the rehabilitation facilities in your city? A. A. is in the phone book.

* * *

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Fatherly Signers

Only two of the 56 men who signed the Declaration of Independence were bachelors; 16 were married twice. Of the 54 signers who were married men each had an average of more than five children and they fathered a grand total of 325 children.

Hints On Staying Slim

(Fifth of Six Articles

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise
Food and Markets Editor

If you're an overweight teenager who wants to reduce, but can't give up snacks, then there are two things for you to do to lose weight.

Dr. Herbert Pollack, associate professor of clinical medicine at New York University and expert in obesity, says:

● First, change your selection of snacks. Switch from high-calorie items such as candy, French fries, and carbonated sweet drinks that supply very little food value, to foods high in nutritional value yet moderately low in fat-producing calories—celery and carrot sticks, hamburgers, hot dogs, meat or cheese sandwiches (but leave off butter or mayonnaise). Also good are milk and fruit drinks, fruit and ice cream.

"Teenagers get at least a quarter of their daily food from snacks If they are all overloaded with calories, you'll just keep on getting fatter. You may also soon suffer from malnutrition," Dr. Pollack warns.

Dancing Helps

● Second, dance a lot. Surveys show that teen-agers who like social dancing are not as heavy as the armchair group.

"Dancing and other forms of physical activity expend energy (calories) and therefore help you burn up surplus calories (fat)," Dr. Pollack explains.

"Those activities that are not strenuous but are continuous, such as hiking and biking, are the best for losing weight. Swimming is excellent—not in spurts, but continued for a long period."

He believes that many a teenager begins to put on weight when he or she gets a driver's license. He stops walking. He drives even to an appointment a few blocks away, instead of using his legs. He cuts down on his energy expenditure. Result: he gets heavier.

"Did you ever notice that your boy friends who do physical work rarely get fat?" he asks.

"They may eat just as much or even more than you. But their sustained activity utilizes their excess calories."

Dr. Pollack says that if you stand while answering telephone calls, instead of lolling in a chair with your feet in the air, you will use up a few of those dreaded calories.

If you walk up one or two flights of stairs instead of waiting for the elevator, or get off the bus a few blocks from home and walk the rest of the way, you burn up more.

JUDITH TAYLOR: "I like to eat and I like to keep busy."

What you overlook is that many small activities such as these add up in calorie expenditure.

Busy Girl

Judith Taylor, 17, of Alameda, N. M., and winner of a 4-H scholarship in a national food-nutrition project, sponsored by General Foods, Inc., is an example of fitness through regular activity and good eating habits.

"I bike-ride 3 miles a day going to and from my school bus stop. I know this helps keep my weight normal," she says. "I also do the family marketing, meal planning and cooking because my mother is a nurse and often is away from home. These are my regular ways of using up excess energy. I also take care of 10 sheep and a goat I own. I ride horseback every week, too.

"Now you can understand why I don't put on weight even though I am a good cook and enjoy my meals. But my meals are nutritionally balanced and not overloaded with starches and sweets."

Snacks? "Oh, yes, when I feel like them. A piece of fruit maybe, or a hamburger. I like to eat: And I like to keep busy," the smiling young prize-winner says.

Don't Be Fooled By 'First Robin'

By BOB VOGES

LANSING (AP) — No expensive equipment or investment is needed for one of Michigan's most popular winter sports — feeding the birds.

"But do it for your own enjoyment," advises D. W. Douglass, bird expert with the Conservation Department. "Don't kid yourself that you are saving the birds or building up the population."

Douglass, a bird-feeder himself, is neutral about just how much good it does.

"The birds that remain here all winter have adopted themselves to getting along in our climate," he said.

Contrary to popular notion, he said, the greatest variety of birds in not likely to be found in some remote northern area of the state. A farmer in Southern Michigan with a good woodlot is likely to attract more different species to his feeding station.

Douglass has another bit of news for those who every year write or call in to the editor of their local newspaper to report "the first robin of the spring."

"The first robin is a fake," he declared firmly. "It is just a robin that for some reason decided to hang around in Michigan all winter instead of migrating south with the rest of them."

Douglass said he isn't sure why a robin decides to winter in Michigan.

Birds are attracted by seeds of all sizes. Sunflower seeds are especially popular. Sparrows and other more common birds will clean up bread crumbs and other scraps.

Cracked corn, wheat, millet and buckwheat are good feed. If you want to get fancy, peanuts and raisins are delicacies.

The insect-eaters, hard-pressed to find their natural diet in the winter, particularly like suet.

A little grit — sand or ground shells—is appreciated when snow and ice covers the ground. It helps the seed-eaters grind up their food.

Douglass had one plea. If you start feeding, keep it up. Birds have a regular routine for their day. Once they discover a steady source of food, they will keep coming back for a handout.

ARCHIE'S PLAY PEN

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Service to the customer involves some pretty strange things, supermarket employe Bob Archie has become convinced.

Archie was putting up a case of tissues when a woman customer approached. She explained she needed someone to mind the baby while she shopped, placed the child in the empty tissue carton for Archie to supervise, and went her way.

True Life Story Is Today's Topic

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)— The menu for today, dear reader, is a true-life success story with a puzzle at the end.

The puzzle is whether you can guess which—but first, read on:

Once upon a time—about 30 years ago—two young fellows roomed in the same boarding house at a Midwest university America was still in the stubborn grip of the greatest depression of the 20th century.

Times were really rough. You could eat on 35 cents a day if you had to. You never bought a new pair of shoelaces until the ones you were wearing had been broken and knotted together in at least four places.

Thirty Years Later

When the two young fellows graduated, one said:

"There's nothing in the way of opportunity out here. I'm going to seek fame and fortune in the big city. I hear there's a dollar to be made there for every light on Broadway."

The other fellow said:

"I think I'll go back and settle down in my home town where people know me. Something'll turn up sooner or later."

Well, both these young men—let's call one Mr. Home Town and the other Mr. Metropolis—carried out their decisions. Thirty years later Mr. Home Town phoned Mr. Metropolis and said, "I'll be in Manhattan next Friday. How about us getting together for dinner?"

He and Mr. Home Town reminisced about old times on the campus as they gulped and chewed their way through two highballs, steaks, after dinner brandy—Mr. Home Town really seemed to want to live it up, and Mr. Metropolis felt rather sorry for him—and coffee.

"How have things been going with you?" asked Mr. Home Town.

Owns Four Banks

Fingering the bills in his pocket and wondering whether they'd cover the tab, Mr. Metropolis said he had one child, lived in a small but comfortable apartment in an area where there hadn't been a knife stabbing in six months. He said he didn't drive a car, rode the subway, had a pretty good job and hoped if he could hold it to 65 to be able to save enough to retire and move back to his own old home town.

"And what about you?" he then asked.

"Oh, I've got seven kids, said Mr. Home Town. "I invested in a transportation company that did $20 million last year. But, of course, that's not my main interest."

"What is your main interest?" asked Mr. Metropolis.

"Oh, I'd say it probably was banking."

"How big is your bank?"

"Which one? I've got four."

As he reached for the restaurant check and opened a wallet stuffed with $50 bills, Mr. Home Town remarked:

"You know, I envy you the cultural advantages you've gained by living in a place like New York all these years. I'm still a country bumpkin. My wife and I get to take in the shows and concerts only when we pass through here each summer on our way to Europe to pick up a few modern paintings."

The two men arose, shook hands and parted.

That is the story, dear reader. Now comes the puzzle:

Can you guess which of these two young men was the one who came to the big city 30 years ago to make his fortune and enjoy the finer life—me or the other fellow?

State Briefs

LANSING (AP) — Surveys have started for a safety rest area on I 75 about five miles south of Flint, reports the State Highway Department. Plans call for 16 such rest areas to be built on the freeway, which extends from the Michigan-Ohio state line near Toledo north to Sault Ste. Marie.

LANSING (AP) — Michigan farmers intend to raise 1,042,000 turkeys this year, four per cent less than last year, reports the Federal - State Crop Reporting Service.

Elementary School Building Program Endorsed By Board

Unanimously endorsing a proposed $1,315,000 bond issue to improve elementary school facilities of the Escanaba Area Public Schools district, the Area school board adopted a statement last night advising citizens:

"Your Board of Education strongly urges all qualified electors to vote in the election and to vote Yes on both propositions for the improvement of your schools."

The election will be held Feb. 18 in the Area Public School district composed of Escanaba city, Wells, Ford River and Cornell townships.

The school board members are: E. G. Bennett, president, Frank A. Bender Jr., Arol E. Beck, William Hemes, J. P. Williams, Jack Manning and Mrs. John O'Brien.

Will Keep Promise

Planning a series of information meetings to carry the facts to the voters ahead of the election, the board also approved an endorsement of the bond issue to finance the building improvement program.

"We feel that by giving the voters an opportunity to provide safe, modern buildings located within the attendance area of the pupils, we have taken the first step toward discharging our responsibility to the boys and girls and their parents in all of the Escanaba Area Public Schools. Giving the voters the opportunity to again vote on debt consolidation fulfills the promise made to the townships at the time of annexation."

The board also adopted the necessary resolutions establishing the date of Feb. 18 for the special election and the form of the questions to be placed before the voters.

Only registered voters who own property assessed for taxes, or the husband or wife of a property owner, are qualified to vote in the Feb. 18 election.

Replace Franklin

The bond issue will, in addition to the construction of elementary school facilities, refund the Ford River school bond issue, which was voted in advance of annexation. Assumption of a similar school bond issue at Cornell is proposed as a separate question, as required by statute.

The voters are asked to approve 1.8 mills ($1.80 per $1,000 assessed valuation) to raise the $1,315,000 to finance the package program which will meet the elementary school needs of the district for the next 10 years.

Information about the several phases of the program which the school board seeks to impress upon the voters includes:

Replacement of the Franklin School building, which was constructed in 1882 and has served first as a high school and junior high school before it housed grade school children. The new school building, to be built on the same site, would have nine classrooms, office space and an all-purpose room.

South Side School

Wells Central School to meet enrollment growth will have four additional classrooms and an all-purpose room. The heating and ventilating system will also be improved. This year 61 pupils from the Wells Central area had to be bussed to the Webster School because of lack of space.

Soo Hill School building is crowded and two rooms in the basement have to be used for classrooms. First grade pupils must use washroom facilities in another building. Enrollments are expanding in the area. Three elementary classrooms and an all-purpose room are to be built if the bond issue is approved.

The Washington School was built in 1899 and the Jefferson in 1902. Both buildings are crowded and it is impossible to heat and ventilate them properly. Despite fire safety improvements, neither building is considered fire-proof. It is proposed to build one new school to replace both of the old ones. It would have 14 classrooms, office space and an all-purpose room. It would be built near the present Washington School.

Youngsters from the south part of Escanaba are now being bussed to the old Franklin School. Many other pupils living in the area must now walk one and one-half miles to attend school. School population growth is continuing in the area. The bond issue would finance a new school near the Athletic Field. It would have seven classrooms, and all-purpose room and office space.

Other Improvements

The John A. Lemmer School houses special education facilities as well as regular classrooms. Growth west of 23rd St., is anticipated and must be provided for. Two classrooms would be added and the heating system would be improved.

The Ford River School's cafeteria is not large enough for a physical education program, and an all-purpose room is included in the school improvement program.

The Webster School building is sound but it does need considerable work to prevent further deterioration. The building would be painted and tuck-pointed, the interior re-lighted, and new entrances would be provided.

In addition to providing new elementary schools to replace old ones and to improve facilities in others, the bond issue would finance:

A blacktop play area at Cornell; improved heating and ventilating at Pine Ridge, Wells Central and Soo Hill Schools; consolidate the Cornell debt; refund the Ford River debt; permit children to attend school in their own area; provide improved cafeteria facilities at the Junior High School; provide a community center for every area.

Hope To Occupy New School Soon

The move of Escanaba Senior High School students in grades 10 through 12 from the present old building into the front classroom section of the new high school will be made as soon as possible, perhaps by Feb. 15, Escanaba Area Public Schools Supt. Walter Bright told the board of education last night.

"We would like to move as soon as possible for safety reasons," said the superintendent.

Bright's experience as an educator included two years as principal of the Central School at Grand Haven, that city's oldest school building, which was recently destroyed by fire.

"Because of my association with that school in the past it makes our present situation appear even more critical to me," he told the school board. "We don't want to occupy these old school buildings any longer than we have to here."

Tentative plans are to begin the move to the completed front classroom sections of the new building on S. 23rd St. on a weekend, completing it possibly on Monday, and having the students occupy the building by Tuesday, Feb. 15.

The cafeteria will not be completed by that date and students will carry their lunches if they plan to eat at the school. The cafeteria and gym will be ready about mid-March, Supt. Bright estimated.

The front section of the new building will be inspected and approved by the state fire marshal before it is occupied, he advised the board.

Briefly Told

Traffic court summons have been issued by Escanaba police to Kenneth C. Gustafson, Gladstone Rte. 1, expired operator's license; and Judy Larson, 311 S. 17th St., no operator's license on person.

Escanaba police are investigating a report that the Escanaba Furniture Co. building, the former Potato Growers Exchange, was entered within the past couple days. There appeared to have been nothing stolen.

Dwayne Taylor, Bark River Rte. 2, suffered the loss of his automobile by fire today, caused by a short in the electrical wiring in the trunk. The fire occurred on M 69 near Ten Mile Creek.

Application for a marriage license was made Tuesday by Anton W. Hunt and Rosemary C. Brazeau, both of Milwaukee.

Polite Gunman Robs Branch Of Bank Of Livonia

LIVONIA (AP) A young gunman with the courtesy of a Sir Walter Raleigh robbed a branch of the Bank of Livonia of its cash Tuesday and then fled through a rear door as police were attempting to get in the front entrance.

The gunman herded Hampton, three employes and a customer, William Mott, 28, of Livonia, to the rear of the office.

He politely ordered Hampton and Mott to spread their coats on the floor for the three women to lie on. Then he told the men to lie down and bound the employes' and the customer's wrists and ankles with wire.

"Tell me when it hurts," he said in applying the wire.

A teller, Donna Richardson, 25, complained and he loosened her wire.

"I'm sorry if I hurt anybody but I'm taking all the chances,' he said.

Then the gunman calmly went about filling a large shopping bag with packages of bills from the vault.

Meanwhile, the bank president, Guy Spencer, tried to call the branch from the main office.

Getting no answer, Spencer called police. The branch is not equipped with a holdup alarm.

One of the bank employes, Mrs. Peggy Pyle, 36, said the gunman apologized again for their inconvenience as the phone rang.

Soon two patrolmen, on a routine trouble call, pounded on the front door. The gunman waved to them that he would open the door. Then he fled.

PLEDGE ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AND TO THE REPUBLIC FOR WHICH IT STANDS ONE NATION UNDER GOD INDIVISIBLE WITH LIBERTY AND JUSTICE FOR ALL

Calendars featuring the presidents, the flag, and pups are 1-2-3, in that order, as favorite subjects for 1963 distribution. Industrial, commercial and retail firms, which distribute the bulk of calendars chose the presidential and flag themes most frequently. According to the men who have dates with calendar production each year, the cold war and Cuba alert sparked the swing to patriotic subjects. Shaw-Barton, Ohio calendar manufacturer, produced the calendar illustrations shown above.

Frigid Weather Letup Welcome

By The Associated Press

Subzero cold clung to some northern sections from the Rockies to the Midwest today but there was welcome relief from the frigid weather of the past two weeks in most of the nation.

Snow, rain and sleet covered broad areas of the country.

Rain splashed over most of the California coastal areas, from Los Angeles to Oregon and parts of Nevada.

The rains were of much benefit in Southern California, easing the longest drought in the region's history.

Heavy snow fell in southern Oregon mountain sections, with more snow throughout the state and freezing rain indicated in Portland where 3 to 6 inches of snow cover the ground.

Temperatures climbed above zero Tuesday for the first time in more than two weeks in some of the snow-covered sections of the Midwest.

The below zero zone this morning covered sections of the northern Rockies and the northern Midwest. Lowest reading was —24 in Bozeman, Mont. It was —14 in Marquette, Mich., and —13 in Minneapolis. A blowing snowstorm which hit Montana diminished and a warming trend was indicated. Temperatures appeared near normal in Colorado and Wyoming, with a few sections reporting below zero.

Foresters Attend School On Fires

MILWAUKEE — More than 50 forest firefighters are meeting here at the Wisconsin Hotel today to review problems and current developments in forest-fire protection and to plan action for 1963.

The dominant theme for this meeting is "Rural Fire Defense." The meeting will be chaired by Paul J. St. Amant, chief of state and private forestry in the regional office of the U. S. Forest Service.

Participants include Sherwood C. Trotter, forest supervisor, and Marvin M. Marshall, staff assistant, fire, of the Hiawatha National Forest, Escanaba.

Milwaukee Pair Admits Series Of Burglaries In U.P.

Two Milwaukee men have admitted safe cracking jobs at Laurerman's Store and Warshewsky's in Manistique, and of the Fair Store in Escanaba. The confessions were made to State Police detectives William Simmons and Walter Barkell of Marquette in Milwaukee.

The men are Bradley Miller, 32, and Lawrence Harris, 29, a former resident of Manistique, who now resides in Milwaukee.

The two were arrested Dec. 15 after a burglary in Portage, Wis. They admitted 27 burglaries, including a number of safe jobs, many larcenies and one car theft.

Miller and Harris admitted the burglaries in Milwaukee after investigations in Manistique revealed that a man identified as Harris was seen in the area the day the Lauerman store was entered. Identification was from police file mug shots.

The two have been sentenced to five years at Waupun State Prison in Wisconsin with the terms running concurrently for each charge in a series of burglaries in seven Wisconsin counties.

State Police of Manistique report the pair admitted breaking the safe at the Fair Store in Escanaba during June of 1962 after stealing acetylene torches and other equipment at the Warshawsky building in Manistique.

They entered Laureman's in Manistique on Aug. 27, 1962, and said they had worked from about 10 p.m. until midnight when they ran out of gas and were unable to open the safe.

They denied taking shoes and slacks from the Manistique store.

During questioning the men told the detectives they had operated a small repair business in Milwaukee, using it as a front to explain the carrying of burglary tools in their car and also the large sums of money they might carry.

According to District Attorney David Bennett at Portage, the pair admitted netting between $40,000 and $50,000 since May of 1961.

On Tuesday of next week the detectives are scheduled to meet in Manistique to confer with Prosecuting Attorney William J. Sheahan as to what action will be taken against the pair from there.

Rites Thursday For Poet Frost

BOSTON (AP)—Private funeral services with only members of his family in attendance will be held Thursday for poet Robert Frost as persons in many parts of the world shared in the mourning.

The four-time Pulitzer Prize winner poet died Tuesday at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital at the age of 88. Death was caused by what doctors described as a probable blood clot in the lungs.

He had been in the hospital since Dec. 3. A week later, he underwent surgery for a urinary tract obstruction and subsequently suffered a heart attack and two blood clots.

Frost, dean of American poets, was considered in many quarters as the uncrowned poet laureate of the United States.

The private services will be held Thursday afternoon in Cambridge, where he had made his home. A memorial service will be held Sunday, Feb. 17, at Amherst College.

Burial will be in the family plot at Old Bennington, Vt., where his wife and parents lie.

Two of Frost's six children survive him. They are Mrs. Joseph Ballantine of New York, and Mrs. Irma Cone of Burlington, Vt.

Held 10 Months On Murder Charge, Airman Goes Free

MOUNTAIN HOME, Idaho (AP)—Airman Gerald M. Anderson is a free man today after almost 10 months of confinement on charges of murder.

Now he wants out of the Air Force. His attorney has called for an investigation of the Air Force's treatment of Anderson, who was accused of killing the wife and son of a fellow airman.

In and out of military and civil jails since April, Anderson was released from the Mountain Home Air Force Base stockade Tuesday.

Another man confessed to the murders in November. Civil authorities accepted the confession and released Anderson but the Air Force promptly arrested him and announced it would try him for the crimes.

Anderson, 25, had no criticism of Air Force personnel except the Office of Special Investigation agents who got him to sign a confession. But he said he hopes the Air Force will grant his request for an early discharge.

Three Believed Dead In Illinois Coal Mine Fire

BENTON, Ill. (AP)—Three miners were feared killed today in a fire, smoldering in one of Illinois' newest coal mines, swept out of control. Four other miners were hospitalized, suffering from smoke inhalation.

A fire broke out Tuesday in the Freeman Coal Co.'s Orient No. 5 mine near Benton. Nearly all 70 men in the mine were evacuated. A few miners remained 640 feet underground to fight the blaze, which appeared to have been brought under control.

Death At 106

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) — Jean Baptiste Winclose, 106, who came to Canada as a miner from Belgium at the turn of the century to "help open up the country," died Tuesday. He had a colorful career as an engineer, prospector and soldier.

Conservation Job For Jensen Urged

Roy Jensen

Roy Jensen, Escanaba fisheries supplies dealer, was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Fish Producers Association at its annual convention at Traverse City recently and urged as a candidate for appointment to the Michigan Conservation Commission.

In a resolution the fishermen urged Governor Romney to consider appointment of a commercial fisherman to the conservation commission. Their nominee wasn't mentioned, but he is Jensen

Wayne Wachter of Marquette was elected president of the association, William Cross of Alpena, first vice president and Richard MacNab of Muskegon 2nd vice president.

Resolutions adopted by the convention asked:

1. A change in the closed season on whitefish back to the old banned season of Nov. 4 to Dec. 5 on Lakes Michigan and Huron It is now Oct. 15-Dec. 10. No change was asked for Superior, Nov. 1-Dec. 26.

2. No closed season on perch. Michigan fishermen want permission to keep their perch production in the markets along with those of Ohio and Canadian fishermen.

Proponents of the open season said fish biologists report that there are lots of perch in the Great Lakes and that they'll grow better—like radishes—for being thinned out.

3. That some areas now closed to commercial fishing be opened up again. Some areas have been closed to commercial fishing under sports fishermen's pressure against the recommendations of the conservation department, commercial fishermen said, but sportsmen are beginning to realize that the restrictions have served to hurt sports fishing.

new air assault divisions, highly mobile units which would be assigned about 460 helicopters and Army airplanes.

He said the Pentagon plans a substantial increase in procurement of Army aircraft, to increase troop mobility and prepare for tests of the new units.

SET TO STRIKE BACK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States will "retaliate in kind" to any Soviet nuclear attack—striking back at cities "in a controlled and deliberate way" if American cities are hit, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said today.

Thus McNamara coolly outlined for Congress how a flexible American "second strike force" plan would respond if the Soviet Union unleashed nuclear war on the United States. He said it could:

1. Hit the entire target system in Russia simultaneously.

2. Or, strike back first at missile and bomber bases and other military targets.

3. And "if necessary strike back at the Soviet urban and industrial complex in a controlled and deliberate way."

McNamara, in testimony to the House Armed Services Committee, put it this way:

By building into U.S. forces a flexible capability, "We at least eliminate the prospect that we could strike back in only one way, namely, against the entire Soviet target system including their cities. Such a prospect would give the Soviet Union no incentive to withhold attack against our cities in a first strike.

"We want to give them a better alternative whether they would accept it in the crisis of a global nuclear war, no one can say. Considering what is at stake, we believe it is worth the additional effort on our part to have this option."

However, he had some cautionary words about a nuclear exchange.

Even with an extensive missile defense system and a more elaborate civil defense program than any now planned, "casualties counted in the tens of millions" would come, he said.

Although McNamara said his estimate is that U.S. strategic retaliatory forces—ICBMs, Polaris missile submarines and Strategic Air Command bombers—could destroy, as of now, the Soviet Union, he qualified this at another point.

If Russia achieved a "very large increase" in the number of ICBMs emplaced in strongly protected positions and in the numbers of atomic-powered, ballistic missile launching submarines, he said, it would compound the U.S. problem.

"Even if we were to double and triple our forces we would not be able to destroy quickly all or almost all of the hardened ICBM sites," he said.

Parts Of Europe Battered Again By Snow And Ice

LONDON (AP) — Southern and Eastern Europe took another battering today from snow, ice and cold winds. At least 430 were dead as a result of Europe's worst winter in decades.

New snowfalls in Italy isolated villages in the Apennines.

Along the Italian Riviera there were calm seas and clear skies. But snow fell on the isle of Capri for the first time in a decade.

Central and northern Greece got more snow. The Greek air force dropped food and other supplies to scores of marooned mountain villages.

New snowfalls also hit the northern provinces of Yugoslavia. The death toll there was 44 so far.

Britain continued to thaw out slowly from the deep snows that covered it for five weeks. Light snow fell over scattered areas. Counties around London were shrouded in fog.

Pack ice drifted out of the Thames to menace shipping along the South Coast.

Lorna McGonagle Award Competitor

Lorna McGonagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McGonagle of Gladstone and a senior at Holy Name High School has been selected to compete for the Alumni Distinguished Scholarship Award at Michigan State University.

The winner of the scholarship may study in one of the 70 departments at Michigan State University. The award is based on superior intellectual performance and potential. ## "Danceorama" Planned For Retarded Children

Eleven local bands will participate in an elaborate Danceorama on Feb. 22, sponsored by Teamsters Local Union 328 for the benefit of the Retarded Children's School Building Fund.

The event will be held in the new Teamsters Hall, formerly the K-C building, located at 900 1st Ave. S. Dancing will be held in the upper and lower Continental Ballrooms, with teenagers using the upper room and persons over 18 years of age in the lower. The upper ballroom for teenagers will be chaperoned.

Chairman for the gala evening will be Roy J. Costley, assisted by Mrs. Costley, Teamsters' Auxiliary president. Besides the bands, the Barbershoppers and Sweet Adelines have also donated their time for the event and will perform between numbers of the 11 alternating bands.

Musical groups which have donated their services include: Dave's Combo, Al Adams' Band, Cartwright Band, Gib Helgemo Band, Mel Larson Band, Chet Marrier Band, Herb Peterson Quartet, Culty Johnson Band, Manley Anderson Band, Jerry Gunville Band and John DeChantal Band.

All proceeds from this event will go into the building fund for the new school for retarded children in Delta County. This school will be built on city owned land near the Webster School with Project Pride donating their services and most of the labor will be donated.

American League Opens April 8; More Night Tilts

BOSTON (AP)—American League teams will play the most night games in history this season with squads altered by mass trades. But the New York Yankees still remain the favorites to win their 13th pennant in 15 years.

Joe Cronin, president of major league baseball's junior circuit, announced the 1963 schedule today.

The traditional Presidential opener will be one of the earliest on record, April 8, at Washington with Baltimore furnishing the opposition.

The Yankees will open their quest for a fourth straight flag the next day at Kansas City while Chicago will be at Detroit, Cleveland at Minnesota and Boston at Los Angeles—the latter under the lights.

The record total of 428 night games, including doubleheaders, is 38 more than last season and 52 more than in 1961 when the American League first expanded from eight to 10 clubs.

Los Angeles and Baltimore share honors as the most arc-conscious teams with 59 night games. Kansas City will play 57 and Washington 56.

The perennially powerful Yankees, led again by 1962 Most Valuable Player Mickey Mantle, hope they have solidified their pitching staff through the acquisition of ex-Los Angeles Dodger Stan Williams via inter-league trade. New York gave up Bill Skowron in return.

Onetime Red Sox infield great Johnny Pesky is the new Boston manager while Birdie Tebbetts has taken over the Cleveland field boss chores. Ed Lopat will be starting his first full season at Kansas City though he replaced Hank Bauer last fall.

As usual interest will be keen in the jostling for rank as chief challenger to the Yankees. Minnesota and the amazing Los Angeles Angeles—in only their second year from scratch—finished 2-3 in the '62 race.

The return to a single All-Star game from the recent pattern of two finds the contest listed for Cleveland July 9.

Rules Change Made In NFL

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The playing rules occupied by the National Football League today after Commissioner Pete Rozelle reported there would be no further betting investigation.

Rozelle said once again that he was continuing his probe and would make a complete report only when the investigation had been finished.

The league beamed at record attendance figures of 4,003,421 for 1962, led by the New York Giants' total of 439,456 for seven straight sellouts at Yankee Stadium. It was the first time the NFL had gone over 4 million paid attendance, almost doubling the figures of 10 years ago.

The most important rule change suggested would eliminate the possibility of a safety being scored on a penalty. This happened twice in 1962 and was the decisive factor in Pittsburgh's 30-28 victory over Dallas. End zone penalties against the defensive team now are enforced from the spot of the foul. If the rule is changed, officials would enforce the penalty from the line of scrimmage.

Palm Springs Tourney Opens

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the defending champion, and his fellow professionals, began the last stand in California's 1963 winter golfing gold rush today as play opened in the $50,000 Palm Springs Classic.

The tournament had its unique characteristics. It goes for five rounds and 90 holes of golf.

Palmer, who won most everything in the sport except the National Open last year, led off this year by winning the Los Angeles Open. In this one he will not only be the defending titleholder but also the man who won it two out of its three years. He figures to be the man to beat again.

On deck was an unwieldy field of 128 professionals and 384 amateurs with play spread over four country club courses in this desert playground.

The winning purse for the pros is $9,000. There is also a $50,000 prize which will go to the golfer who scores a hole-in-one on one of the selected holes of the four courses in play.

The Escanaba Eskymos tightened their gap on first place in the Great Lakes Conference race Tuesday night by defeating the Gladstone Braves 56-42.

The triumph was Escanaba's eighth against two defeats in GLC action this season. The setback left Gladstone with a 6-3 mark while Marquette follows the Eskymos in the standings with 6-2.

Both teams experienced difficulty finding the range in the early stages of the game but the host Braves stepped up the pace late in the first period to lead 13-10.

Coach Harold Johnson's cagers took command in the second period, scoring nine straight points for a 19-13 lead which they never surrendered. The Eskymos held Gladstone to a pair of field goals in the period and had a 24-17 cushion at halftime.

The Eskymos continued to stretch their lead through the third period and had a 20 point bulge early in the fourth.

Escanaba used its fast break attack effectively and hit well against Gladstone's zone defense. The Eskymos scored on 23 of 55 field goal attempts and added 10 of 22 from the foul line. Gladstone tallied on 15 of 50 from the field and 12 of 23 from the line.

Ken Seibert led the Eskymos on the boards and contributed a dozen points. Jim Almonroeder hit 15 and Dave Hunter 12 as the five Escanaba starters all scored eight or more points. Tom Vanlerberghe was Gladstone's top scorer with 10 points.

Escanaba won the jayvee game 66-52.

Wilson Needs Share Of Stock

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — The Detroit Lions head coach, George Wilson, is demanding a share of Lions stock so he can qualify to attend the National Football League meetings here.

Wilson was angered Tuesday when he was barred from the opening sessions.

He was asked by an aide to NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle to get out. The meetings—except for matters dealing with playing rules—are limited to owners, club management and league officials.

Green Bay's general manager-coach Vince Lombardi and Chicago's owner-coach George Halas were eligible to attend.

The Lions' general manager, Edward J. Anderson, a major stockholder, said he would get Wilson admitted.

But Wilson, still fuming, said, "No, sir. I'm not going back in there—not even for the discussion on rules changes—until I get one share of stock and qualify as an owner."

Anderson said he had no objection to Wilson having a share of stock. But this would be up for the team's directors to decide.

Michigan Quint Plays Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan's surprising basketball team, which built its success around a Detroit player, makes one of its infrequent appearances here tonight against the University of Detroit.

The Wolverines, off to their best start in nearly two decades with a 10-3 record, haven't played in Detroit since winning the 1958 Motor City Tournament.

Although they practically are neighbors, tonight's meeting is only the fourth between Michigan and the Titans. The Wolverines hold a 2-1 edge in the series begun in 1918. The only time the Titans were able to win was last year, 82-74 at Ann Arbor.

Just about all the credit for Michigan's amazing start this season goes to Bill Buntin, a 6-foot-7 high scorer and a product of Detroit Northern.

Buntin, just a sophomore, has a 22.5 scoring average for 13 games. His average puts him among the nation's top 20 scorers.

Michigan's hopes for victory revolve around Buntin having his usual hot game. Detroit's hopes are built around stopping Buntin.

Carney Notches Tenth Victory

BARK RIVER-HARRIS — The Carney Wolves registered their 10th victory against two defeats for the season here Tuesday night by downing the Broncos 76-42.

Bark River-Harris played a good first half but folded in the third period to absorb its 10th straight setback.

Carney's balanced attack was led by Earl LaCount with 22 points. Three mates hit in double figures. Tony Cavadeas led the Broncos with 18 points.

Carney won the jayvee preliminary 76-35.

Nahma Tips Eben For First Place In Central Race

EBEN—Coach Owen Peterson's Nahma Arows survived a weird battle here Tuesday night to take over sole possession of first place in the Central League standings.

Nahma edged Eben 41-35 with the margin of victory coming at the free throw line. Last week the Arrows had knocked Perkins out of a share of first place in the tight Central race.

Coach Bob Johnson's Eagles put a tight clamp on Nahma's Pat Groleau who was held to eight points. But the Arrows came through with a balanced attack that was led by Don Johnson with 12 points and Dick Feathers with 11. Arlin Pomeroy matched the output of Groleau, who was operating under the weather after becoming ill during the game.

Both teams hit on 16 field goals but the Arrows added 9 of 21 from the foul line. Eben cashed in on only 3 of 14 gift shots.

Eben's constant press was an effective defensive measure, but it cost the Eagles in personals. Koski and Norman both fouled out before the game ended.

Nahma pulled to a 10-2 lead in the first period and had a 23-18 edge at the half. Eben then took command in the third quarter to lead 31-26 entering the final period.

The tide changed again as Nahma outscored Eben 15-4 in the fourth. Don Johnson scored 10 of his 12 points in the period, including seven free throws.

Eben had a 39-38 edge in free throws with Andy Freberg pulling down 17. Groleau hauled in 22 for the Arrows who now own a 10-2 season record. Eben is 7-5 for the year.

Groleau, top scorer in the Peninsula entering the game, now has 383 points for an average of 32 per game.

Eben won the preliminary 49-21.

Ray Robinson Fights Dupas

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson meets Ralph Dupas in a 10-round middleweight fight tonight where a defeat could mean boxing oscurity.

Robinson, six times a world champion, was an underdog despite a 10-pound weight advantage over 26-year-old Dupas. Sugar Ray, 43, turned pro in 1940, the year Dupas celebrated his sixth birthday.

"He's been around longer, but he hasn't had that many more fights than I have," said Dupas, who dropped a 15-round title decision to welterweight champion Emile Griffith last June.

Robinson, discounting the experience acquired while winning all 125 amateur fights, has rolled up 142 victories in 166 pro bouts. Ninety-seven, three more than Dupas' victory total, came on knockouts. The New Orleans veteran has scored 16 KOs. Each has been stopped once.

Robinson hopes a victory over Dupas will be the first of two stepping stones to a title match against middleweight champ Dick Tiger.

Scheffing Needs A Healthy Lary

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP)—The Chinese calendar said 1962 was the year of the Tiger, but Detroit Manager Bob Scheffing believes it's 1963.

His optimistic outlook could change, however, if pitcher Frank Lary isn't healthy.

"Last year we were ruined by a bad arm," Scheffing said Tuesday in an interview at his Scottsdale home. "Lary hurt his arm and finished with a 2-6 record and we won 85 games. The year before, when we won 101, he won 23."

The Tigers were second in the 1961 American League race, but dropped to fourth last season.

Scheffing said he talked with Lary recently and the 31-year-old right-hander assured him his arm was better.

"Just how much better we'll have to wait and see," Scheffing said. "But losing him again is one thing we can't afford."

Scheffing added:

"We think we helped ourselves with winter trades, and with Al Kaline healthy, we've got baseball's best outfield."

Kaline broke a collarbone last season and missed 61 games. Still he hit .304 and 29 home runs.

Joining Kaline in the Tiger outfield are Billy Bruton and Rocky Colavito.

Scheffing said his catching problem was solved when the Tigers obtained Gus Triandos from Baltimore.

For his infield, Scheffing has Norm Cash at first base, Dick McAuliffe at second, Chico Fernandez at shortstop and Bubba Phillips, obtained from Cleveland, at third.

Scheffing, going into this third season as Tiger boss, is sold on this alignment. He also likes his front line pitching corps of Lary, Jim Bunning, Hank Aguirre and Don Mossi.

"But how good we do depends on Lary," Scheffing concluded. "We need him and his 20 wins if we're going to make it this time."

100 Compete In U. P. Junior Alpine Ski At Iron Mt.

IRON MOUNTAIN — Approximately 100 skiers ranging in age from sub-teen to seventeen years participated in the junior alpine Upper Peninsula sub-regional ski meet here over the past weekend. A similar meet was held recently in Wisconsin, and the top 60 from both events will compete in the regional finals at Marquette Feb. 9-10.

Outstanding performances were made by slalom winners Mike Porcarelli, Sault Ste. Marie; Natalie Brebner, Marquette; Jonathan Carlisle, Brimley; Susan Fletcher, Marquette; Steven Kushner, Iron Mountain; Penny Chisolm, Marquette; David Johnson, Ironwood; Ann Dougeveto, Iron Mountain.

David Johnson turned in a combined time of 89.5 seconds in winning the Class 1 boys (16-17 years of age), and Ann Dougeveto had 96.4 in winning the Class 1 girls (16-17).

Redskin Tailspin Ends In Squeaker

HERMANSVILLE—After losing their last two starts by a total of three points, the Hermansville Redskins copped a victory by one here Tuesday night, nipping arch rival Powers-Spalding 61-60.

The triumph came on a free throw by Bob Smith in the final second of the game as he was fouled at the buzzer.

Coach Don Hill's Redskins started fast and led 21-14 at the end of the first period with Ron Povolo hitting nine points and Bob Caliaro six. They continued to hold their edge to halftime, 34-27.

Coach Gordy LeDuc's Tigers stormed back in the third period to cut their deficit to two points and the teams battled neck-and-neck down the stretch.

The Tigers led 60-58 until Povolo scored on a field goal to tie it up at 60-60 with 1:20 remaining. The Redskins gained control of the ball and stalled until Povolo took a shot and missed with four seconds left. Smith got the rebound and was fouled while shooting at the final buzzer. He missed the first gift shot but made the second.

Povolo took individual scoring honors with 22 points while Mike Nelson paced the Tigers with 20 before fouling out in the fourth period.

The victory was Hermansville's 11th against two defeats. The Tigers have won four, lost nine.

Hermansville won the preliminary 51-33.

Wilt Hits 62 Against Budd

NEW YORK (AP)—Wilt Chamberlain, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, complained today that he didn't like the idea of having peewees of 6-feet-6 guarding him.

The 7-1 San Francisco Warrior dropped in 62 points Tuesday night to lead his team to a 123-103 victory over the hapless New York Knickerbockers in the second game of a Madison Square Garden doubleheader. The Boston Celtics edged the Chicago Zephyrs in the first game, 100-99.

Dave Budd, who stands 6-feet-6 and weighs in at 210 pounds, tried to handle Chamberlain for 31 minutes and got nowhere.

"It was ridiculous," said Wilt, "I have a lot of respect for Budd, but he should try to play people his size."

"I felt helpless," conceded Budd.

Paul Hogue, the 6-9, 240 pound rookie ordinarily would be assigned to guard Chamberlain. But he was sidelined because of an appendectomy.

"Wilt is unbelievably strong," said Budd in awe. "For a while, I figured I'd race him down the court and take the spot I knew he wanted.

"But then," Budd added sadly, "he found another spot."

The Celtics' victory over the Zephyrs was a heart-stopper. In the last 22 seconds, Bob Cousy plunked in a long one-hander and Tom Heinsohn made good on two free throws for the decision.

The St. Louis Hawks whipped the Syracuse Nationals, 123-105, in the other NBA game Tuesday night.

Liston Takes Talking Turn

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—Heavyweight boxing champion Sonny Liston, decrying the oral offerings of Cassius Clay, made a few self-assured statements on his own Tuesday night.

Among other things, the world titleholder said:

1. He'd like to meet Clay and Ingemar Johansson in the ring at the same time.
2. He would dispose of ex-champion Floyd Patterson in less time (2:06 minutes of the first round) than it took last June in winning the crown.
3. Clay is a good fighter against ex-football players and grandfathers.

Liston said his only worry in fighting Clay would be that a doctor "can get my glove out of his mouth without cutting my wrist."

His reference to football players and grandfathers, he said, concerned Clay's recent ring triumphs over ex-pro gridder Charley Powell and aging Archie Moore.

He said he recently met Clay in Miami.

"I'll tell you, he's a talker. We almost went at it right there."

'Sooner Dwarf' Big Factor In Basketball Upset

By The Associated Press

"The darting Sooner dwarf" is the appellation Oklahoma fans use to describe 5-foot-9 Eddie Evans, heralded as the most exciting player in the University's 56-year basketball history.

Evans lived up to his publicity notices Tuesday night as he helped the Sooners upset Kansas State 81-75 in the Big Eight Conference. The Negro senior scored 18 points on 6 field goals and 6 of 8 free throws.

Oklahoma's victory was virtually the only surprise on a national program that saw just one team in the Associated Press Top Ten go into action.

Drake, looking ahead to its Thursday meeting with top-ranked Cincinnati, snapped a six-game losing streak and won its first Missouri Valley Conference game by defeating Bradley 79-72. Iowa State won its fifth straight by defeating Missouri 78-66 in a Big Eight fray, Virginia Tech turned back George Washington 79-75 in the Southern Conference and Morehead tumbled Eastern Kentucky 87-72 in the Ohio Valley Conference.

In non-conference games Holy Cross beat Dartmouth 87-70, St. Bonaventure upended Providence 83-71, Villanova edged Duquesne 49-45, Houston whipped Texas Christian 87-71, Connecticut defeated Boston University 90-76, Miami of Florida nipped Tampa 78-76, Seton Hall took Long Island 71-61, Texas walloped Trinity of Texas 88-54, Xavier of Ohio humbled Bellarmine 73-56, Montana State whipped Orange State 75-58, Fresno outclassed University of Pacific 79-50 and Los Angeles Loyola turned back Portland 66-58.

Veeck Bid Fails To Land Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investment banker James M. Johnston took over as boss of the Washington Senators today after stockholders brushed aside an offer from Bill Veeck.

Elwood R. (Pete) Quesada, quick-tempered, controversial former Air Force general, resigned as president Tuesday and sold his stock to a three-man group headed by Johnston.

Veeck, a colorful American League figure as top man at Cleveland, St. Louis and Chicago, and Nate Dolin of Cleveland had offered $5 million for the baseball team, despite its 10th place American League finishes the past two season.

Under the deal Tuesday, five of the original stockholders sold out to Johnston, his business partner James H. Lemon and aviation executive George M. Bunker, with two others retaining their original holdings.

The new board of directors elected Johnston chairman and indicated he would serve as chief executive officer with an office at the stadium.

Hodges May Get Coaching Job

NEW YORK AP) — If 38-year-old Gil Hodges can't drag his aching legs out to first base next season, he'll probably wind up as a coach for the New York Mets.

"If he can't make it from the shoulders down because of his bad knee," rasped Manager Casey Stengel today, "then I don't see why we can't take advantage of what he has from the shoulders up."

Hodges underwent surgery for the removal of a cartilage on his left knee late last season, but he'd like to give it a try and Stengel would like to see him on first base, too.

"If Gil isn't crippled, I may alternate him with Tim Harkness at first base," Stengel said. He also pointed out that he had 18-year-old bonus baby Ed Kranepool waiting in the wings for a chance.

MANISTIQUE

Armory Project Given Boost

Residents of Manistique, who two years ago tipped their centennial hats and raised over $7,000 for planning a new armory are reviving the project for a civic-armory structure.

Impetus for the plan to build a new armory has ben received with establishment of a one unit company here, which will have 81 minimum strength instead of 52 as at present. This means greater federal and state financial aid for the project. The new designation is effective July 1 and a recruiting campaign will be underway. All men between 17 and 37 are invited to participate in the company's activities and training.

A site was deeded on a 4-1 vote here several years ago for the Armory Building to replace present rented quarters. Plans call for providing a large gym and other community facilities in it. A check is being made to determine what minimum cost will be for a building which will include some 11,000 square feet for a gymnasium.

Plans call for asking a one-mill levy for three years in the city, before November, when the property reverts to the city unless construction plans are underway. Present thinking is to ask for $30,000 to $40,000 for a minimum structure, to which the community can add later.

Plywood Firm Picks Site In Lower Peninsula

The U. S. Plywood Corp., of Redding, Calif., reports it will not locate in Manistique due to a "too competitive" woods products market, Mayor Harold Carlson reported at the City Council meeting Monday night.

The firm had officials inspect a site here and some in other communities. It has since advised it plans to locate in the northern half of Lower Michigan, the mayor reported. Speculation is the location will be in Petoskey or Traverse City.

When notice was first received the firm would not locate here, a letter was written offering to donate the land to make location here more attractive. The offer was declined. Another letter has been writen, Carlson said, to assure continuing interest in the plant's location here.

"I'm convinced industry will come if you have what it wants, but you can't buy them," Carlson observed.

In other business the Council was advised that in the Feb. 25 election to construct a 300,000-gallon water tower for increased water pressure throughout the city, voters must be owners or husbands and wives of owners with property assessed for taxes. The present 200,000-gallon tank was built in 1920, when demand for water was much lower than at present, when every home virtually has taps. The Council stressed the new tank will improve pressure equally throughout the city, not just in the eastside area.

A policy was established whereby applicants for widow's hardship tax exemption must sign a written form in which a lien is granted on the property. Owners will not be deprived of use of their homes while living or before sold. The forms will be available at the city hall.

A proposal of the State Highway Department to prohibit parking on Chippewa Ave., was discussed.

Architects Meet With School Board

The Manistique Board of Education met Monday evening with members of the G. Arntzen architectural firm of Escanaba on plans for school building improvements. The role of the architect in school building plans and need for a survey to determine child population centers and other factors were discussed.

A report on plans for school custodial supervision was received from a board committee which has been studying this.

Weather Reduces Output Of Meats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The extremely cold weather is making itself felt at the nation's meat counters.

An Agriculture Department report showed Tuesday that meat production last week was the smallest for any non-holiday week since last September. It was down 8 per cent from the previous week.

Cold weather, with snow-blocked roads in many areas, hampered shipment of cattle and hogs from farms to markets.

'What's My Line' Signs John Daly

In Memoriam

Bowman

In loving memory of my dear husband William C. Bowman, who passed away 3 years ago today January 30, 1960.

In my chest of cherished memories
I looked up thoughts of you.
Your smiling face, your tender care
And things you used to do.
And now and then when I am alone
I open up this chest
And spend awhile just thinking of
The one I loved the best.

Sadly missed by his wife

Free Press Staff Changes Made

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Al Neuharth, 38, has resigned as assistant executive editor of The Detroit Free Press and will join the Gannett Co. Feb. 1 as a general executive.

Neuharth will have "important responsibilities with both the Rochester Times-Union and The Democrat and Chronicle," the Gannett announcement said Monday.

Neuharth's resignation prompted a series of personnel changes at The Free Press.

John Prescott was named assistant to the vice president; Derick Daniels, presently city editor, was named assistant managing editor for news operations; B. Dale Davis also was named an assistant managing editor in charge of features and Sunday sections; William Sudomier, presently an assistant city editor, was promoted to city editor to succeed Daniels.

Two Appointed On State PSC

LANSING (AP) — Two appointments to the powerful, policy-making Public Service Commission have been announced by Gov. George Romney.

Thomas Burns of Saginaw was named chairman and appointed for a term expiring in July, 1967. George Washington of Detroit was appointed for the balance of Burns' term, which expires this July.

The commission has regulatory powers, including the setting of rates, over Michigan utilities such as the gas, electric and telephone companies.

The appointments require Senate confirmation before they become effective.

Sen. John Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge, chairman of the Senate Business Committee, said he will interview the candidates Thursday. The Republican-dominated Senate is expected to approve the appointments of the two Republicans.

Burns is slated to replace James Inglis of Detroit, a Democrat appointed by former Gov. John Swainson who did not receive Senate confirmation.

The third member of the commission is John Tormey, a Lansing Democrat, whose term expires in 1965. State statute requires the commission be bipartisan.

The chairman receives $13,500 a year and the other two members $13,000 each. Romney said he will ask for salary increases for the posts.

New Bell Rates To Cut Revenue

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bell telephone companies are proposing a new $1 or less rate on telephone calls between any two points within the continental United States between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m., and increases of 5 to 10 cents on certain person-to-person long distance calls.

The Federal Communications Commission announced today the companies have reported they will file these rate schedules.

The new rates, to become effective about April 1, would cut revenues of the companies by $30 million a year, the commission said.

Under the plan, a three-minute station-to-station interstate call would cost a maximum of $1, plus 25 cents for each additional minute, between 9 p.m. and 4:30 a.m.

This would include, for example, a Washington to San Francisco call, which now costs $1.75.

"The 'after nine' reduced rates are designed to encourage telephone users to take advantage of th technological improvements in telephone plant introduced by the Bell System in recent years, much of which is engineered for peak daytime usage," the FCC said.

At the same time, increases of 5 to 10 cents in person-to-person calls up to 800 miles will be put into effect, the commission said.

"Person-to-person calls at these shorter distances have not borne their proportionate share of the cost of furnishing such services," the commission said, "and these minor increases will help to correct this inequity as well as the disparity where it exists between interstate and intrastate rates."

Building Started At Cape Canaveral Moonship Complex

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Construction has started on an industrial complex which will be the Cape Canaveral nerve center of America's program to launch men to the moon.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held Monday for the operations and checkout building, the first of 40, where preflight testing will be done on the Gemini two-man spacecraft and the three-man Apollo moonship.

Scheduled for completion within a year, it will be eight stories tall, cost $8,691,624, have 350,000 square feet of floor space and accommodate 1,800 employes of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Buying Picks Up, But Will It Last?

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—To the joy of a lot of people—including the finance companies — consumers have stepped up their buying of autos and appliances and other durables. Will it last?

They are spending just under 13 per cent of their after tax incomes on such things. Total sales last year rose 9 per cent to $48 billion.

This change of heart by consumers after a long spell of caution is a prime reason General Motors reports record sales and profits for 1962. It is the reason most auto, appliance and furniture men are predicting that 1963 will be that rare thing, a back-to-back good year. This would mean two big selling seasons in succession.

Another reason they are optimistic is that sales of durables are partcularly sensitive to the level of incomes—and these continue to grow. And they are equally swayed by the rate of growth of incomes and the chances of this continuing. Surveys report most consumers feel things are going to get better.

A third reason the durable goods producers and dealers look for a good sales year is they believe Congress will vote some kind of a cut in individual income taxes this year. And the salesmen think that durables have an inside track on getting that extra money.

Even so, few are looking for a boom in sales comparable to that from the end of World War II to 1955. The Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, in its current Business in Brief survey, notes that in 1950 consumers were spending 17 per cent of their after tax money on hard goods, and in 1955 it was 15 per cent.

But the bank economists also point out that from the early 1961 low of the last recession to the third quarter of 1962 sales of durables rose 15 per cent.

From this some might figure that the arid years of the late 1950s are over. Then the big pent-up demand from the war years (and even from the depression before them) had been fairly well satisfied. Huge sales of cars and household gadgets had brought transportation and home living up to the dreamed-of standards. Why could things be different today?

The bank economists note that in 1962 some durables that didn't get the big play before began to sell at rates well above the 9 per cent gain for durables as a whole. Color television sets, formerly selling around 100,000 a year, came to 400,000 in 1962. Phonograph sales rose from 3.9 million to 4.9 million last year.

And most American families aren't satisfied with just the appliances they once thought all they needed. As they pay off the monthly chits on these, they begin dreaming of new ones. Or, as the bankers put it, "Aspirations are increased with success."

Spoiled Taste Awarded $6,644

By The Associated Press

Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the University of California, has been named Executive of the Year by the American College of Hospital Administrators in Chicago.

Arthur Scarlett and his wife, May, have had their problems ever since they were injured in an auto crash, they told a court in London, England. Arthur claimed he started seeing spiders and May contended everything she eats now tastes the same—like cotton wool.

The judge obviously decided that May's fate was worse than Arthur's. He awarded her $6,644 damages, and Arthur $1,873.

Virginia Gov. Albertis S. Harrison, 15 congressmen and a delegation from the Atomic Energy Commission are scheduled to take brief cruises on the nuclear-powered aircraft carrier Enterprise this week before the world's largest ship leaves Norfolk, Va., for the Mediterranean.

"Heated Planes"

Surfaces of planes flying at twice the speed of sound will heat to 300 degrees Fahrenheit even in fairly thin atmosphere at 30,000 feet.

Wonder Where Smoke Goes?

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Ever wonder where smoke goes?

University of Michigan scientists have been wondering the same thing, and will use several computers to determine where it goes and how it is diffuser in the air.

The computing facility, to be set up by the meteorological laboratory of the Engineering Mechanics Department, is being financed by a $319,000 grant from the National Science Foundation—which apparently has been wondering too.

The project is aimed at predicting how such air pollutants as smoke, industrial gases and even ragweed pollen are diffused under various weather conditions, said U-M meteorologist Fred Brock.

Believed to be the only facility of its kind, it will be run by Brock and E. Wendell Hewson, Laboratory director and originator of the project.

As industrialaization increases, air must be regarded as a natural resource which must be preserved, Brock said. To do this, all pollutants must be controlled, and they can be controlled only if diffusion processes in the atmosphere are understood, Brock said.

The equipment also can be used to study the interaction between the atmosphere and the ground—thus assisting crop growers, he added.

Dr. Walfrid Sarri Of Marquette Dies

MARQUETTE—Dr. Walfrid J. Sarri, 62, retired Marquette dentist and prominent Upper Peninsula sportsman, died suddenly Sunday afternoon in Hollywood, Fla., where he and Mrs. Sarri were spending the winter.

A 1924 graduate of Marquette university school of dentistry in Milwaukee, he began dental practice here Jan. 12, 1925. He retired in June 1960, because of ill nealth.

Widely known because of shooting, hunting and fishing activities, he was one of the founders of the Marquette Skeet club and won the club championship in 1959.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, William.

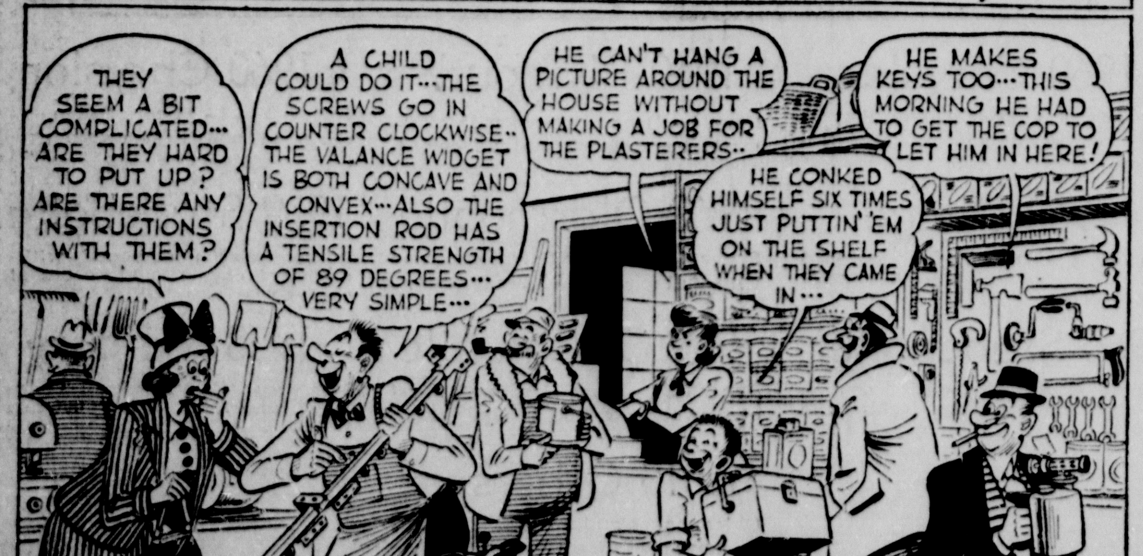
They'll Do It Every Time — Registered U. S. Patent Office — By Jimmy Hatlo



THEY SEEM A BIT COMPLICATED... ARE THEY HARD TO PUT UP? ARE THERE ANY INSTRUCTIONS WITH THEM?
A CHILD COULD DO IT...THE SCREWS GO IN COUNTER CLOCKWISE.. THE VALANCE WIDGET IS BOTH CONCAVE AND CONVEX...ALSO THE INSERTION ROD HAS A TENSILE STRENGTH OF 89 DEGREES... VERY SIMPLE...
HE CAN'T HANG A PICTURE AROUND THE HOUSE WITHOUT MAKING A JOB FOR THE PLASTERERS..
HE MAKES KEYS TOO...THIS MORNING HE HAD TO GET THE COP TO LET HIM IN HERE!
HE CONKED HIMSELF SIX TIMES JUST PUTTIN' 'EM ON THE SHELF WHEN THEY CAME IN...
THE HARDWARE TYCOON WHO CAN TELL ANYBODY HOW TO DO ANYTHING...
THANX AND A TIP OF THE HATLO HAT TO MRS. NORMA YAFFE, 163 STONEWAY LANE, BALA-CYNWYD, PENNA.
